Apartments At Northgate Are Denied

Council Responds To Flood Of Protests, Record Crowd

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The San Rafael City Council played to a record house and loud applause last night as it unanimously rejected zoning which would have allowed 1,186 apartments on Quail Hill behind the Northgate Shopping Center.

The applause was enthusiastic despite the fact three councilmen told some 150 protesting Terra Lindans that they can expect apartments to be permitted on the hill — although not 1,186 of them.

The council spent three hours in public hearing of the Draper Companies' application for "planned community" zoning for the 83-acre hill. The application was based on a proposal for the 1,186 units, but—as Councilman Charles W. Aby repeatedly pointed out—it was not accompanied by a precise plan for the development, usually required for planned community zoning.

The Draper Companies yesterday withdrew their appeal from planning commission turndown of a use permit for the development. Aby contended the planned community zoning could not be approved without the use permit. City Atty. David Menary Jr. said, however, it was his opinion the council could proceed with the zoning.

The San Rafael Recreation Center, to which the meeting was adjourned because of the large crowd, was pretty well packed. When Seymour Ellis, attorney for the protesting Terra Linda Valley Homeowners Assn., asked for all San Rafael residents who favored the rezoning to stand, there were 13 standees. When he asked for those opposed, about 150 arose.

Deputy City Clerk W. C. Cornwell reported he had received letters from 103 individuals, the Terra Linda Community Services District and the San Rafael Meadows Improvement Assn., all protesting the project. Somebody also sent a telegram in protest.

Against this deluge, the Drapers Companies arrayed their heaviest bulworks. Attorney William G. Corrigan presented a lineup headed by Jerome C. Draper, the companies' president, and famed landscape architect Lawrence Halprin of Kentfield, whose drawing of what the hill would look like with the apartments was on display. (Only black blocks represented the buildings themselves.)

Heart Stab Victim May Be A 'First'

Surviving Wound After Skillful Work Of Doctors

William Roger Mason of Forest Knolls may be the first person in Marin history to survive a stab wound in the heart.

Mason was stabbed at his home late Saturday, allegedly by his wife, Mrs. Madoline Ann Mason, with a 12-inch serrated bread knife.

Dr. Richard S. Hahn disclosed today that the knife thrust penetrated Mason's heart. But quick, skillful work by doctors at Marin General Hospital saved his life. His condition was reported as "good" today in the hospital's intensive care unit.

RUNS FROM HOME

A neighbor, Lee Arthur Fairchild, called the sheriff's office late Saturday when he saw 24-year-old Mrs. Mason run from the home. She told him she had stabbed her husband. Later she told an investigator her husband dared her to do so.

A deputy sheriff called an ambulance, which took the 40-year-old Mason, bleeding profusely, to the hospital. Dr. David Cunningham, on emergency duty, inserted a tube in Mason's chest to drain the fluid and keep him alive, and administered between three and four pints of blood in an immediate transfusion.

SEW UP HOLE

Mason was rushed to the operating room where Dr. Hahn, a thoracic surgeon, and Dr. Peter Gouder, a vascular surgeon, sewed up the punctured heart and a severed artery and other blood vessels, then repaired the lung.

Dr. Hahn said the knife had entered just below the collarbone, and the 12-inch blade had ranged downward to slash the left ventricle of the heart.

"So far as I know, no one has ever before survived a stab wound in the heart in Marin County—even in San Quentin, where they have many stabbings," said Hahn.

Mrs. Mason, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was released from county jail yesterday on $5,500 bail. She is scheduled to plead in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Traffic Deaths Now 10

A 16-year-old Woodacre youth, an honor student at Sir Francis Drake High School, was killed today when the foreign made pickup truck he was driving plunged 40 feet down a steep embankment in Woodacre.

Wolfram Hans Toews of 24 Buckeye Circle was dead on arrival at San Rafael General Hospital at 8:40 a.m.

He suffered chest, neck and internal injuries, according to Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley.

Toews, a sophomore at Drake, was the 10th traffic fatality in Marin County this year, as compared to nine at this time last year.

The youth was on his way to school at about 7:30 a.m. when his Volkswagen pick-up veered off Redwood Road, one-tenth of a mile west of Selix Road, and plunged into the creek bed.

He was pinned half in and half out of the driver's side of the car, according to California Highway Patrol officer James Cahill.

The officer said that fastened seat belts in the vehicle would have saved the youth's life.

Cahill said that there was no immediate explanation of why

State Court Upholds PUC Bodega Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The California Supreme Court today refused to block construction of a nuclear power plant at Bodega Head proposed by Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

The decision upheld a refusal by the State Public Utilities Commission to reconsider its granting of a permit to PG&E to build the 61-million-dollar installation on the Sonoma County coast.

In a unanimous opinion written by Justice Marshall F. McComb, the court said opponents of the plant had waited too long in asking that the case be reopened.

The project has been bitterly attacked by a group of citizens called the Northern California Assn. to Preserve Bodega Head, the Sierra Club and other conservation groups.

They asserted that the plant would be dangerous near the San Andreas earthquake fault and that the construction would injure tidal marine life and the area's scenic beauty.

Warden Wilson Does Not Like Death Penalty

By WAT TAKESHITA

Lawrence E. Wilson, 60, new warden of San Quentin Prison, is not in favor of the death penalty.

He gave his views on capital punishment and outlined a plan to modernize the state's oldest and largest prison during his first press conference at San Quentin today.

Warden Wilson is against the death penalty because "I don't think it is a deterrent to crime" and because "the penalty varies so much — varies as to geographic location, varies as to the talents of prosecutors and defenders."

He said he has seen crimes "where you think here is a crime that justifies death, but often the man never ends up on Death Row."

Even if the death penalty were uniformly applied, Warden Wilson said he would still have "some reservation." He explained he has seen men commuted from the gas chamber who later were rehabilitated. "They are on parole outside, with not one mark against them. I think this is the humane point of view."

One of his most "distasteful duties" at San Quentin will be

Budget Plea For Tourist Lure Denied

Charles D. Helbig, president of the Marin Visitors Bureau, came to the Marin County Board of Supervisors today with "a little budget of $5,950," and went away emptyhanded.

He said he needed the money for advertising to bring tourists into Marin during the May in Marin festival. He described festivities during the month, including a symphony concert and a jazz concert by Dave Brubeck.

Also included was a parade in San Rafael. He said San Rafael merchants would pay for the parade, that the Dominican College alumni was sponsoring the concert by the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, and that Guide Dogs for the Blind would pay for Brubeck.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said he favored the festival in general, but could see little direct dollar value from the weekend events proposed, as far as tourists were concerned.

Supervisor George H. Ludy said the program seemed designed mainly to aid merchants of San Rafael.

Helbig answered that merchants organizations throughout the county were being encouraged to hold similar programs.

Ludy said he would rather appropriate money to aid the West Marin Livestock Show.

Chairman William A. Gnoss added that the Novato Western

Explosion Cuts Power In Novato

The Novato substation of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. at Machin and Sweetzer avenues, blew up with a roar heard over most of the Novato business district at 4:27 p.m. yesterday, cutting electric service to 7,000 customers.

Lee C. Wise, Novato manager for PG&E, said damage would run into several thousand dollars, but could not be determined until the transformer was torn down for repairs.

Service was not restored until 6:04 p.m., when electricity was fed into the system from Petaluma, Ignacio and Las Gallinas substations, Wise said.

The force of the explosion shattered the porcelain insulators. One fragment traveled across Machin Avenue and broke the windshield of a station wagon belonging to Tresch Electric Co. at 1026 Machin Avenue, according to Laurence E. Tresch, owner.

"It was lucky that there was no one around then," Wise said. He said most of the pieces of the insulator were inside the substation walls.

A portable unit will be used until the repairs are made in three or four days, Wise said.

Cause of the failure in the transformer could not be determined yet, according to Wise.

MEXICAN CROWDS GREET DE GAULLE

French Leader's Reception Is Huge; Seeks Greater Role In Latin America

De Gaulle wore civilian garb today, a loose-fitting dark business suit, in contrast to the khaki general's uniform he wore on his arrival yesterday.

De Gaulle broke his official program briefly earlier for a quick side trip to the fair where "France Day" is being observed

This was the beginning of a busy, 16-hour official schedule, topped by a midnight reception and banquet.

The rest of the program—de Gaulle's first full day in Mexico in an apparent bid for a greater role for France in Latin America—includes laying of a wreath at the Monument of Independence, a visit to a government housing and community center project, a luncheon hosted by deputies, a joint session of the House and Senate in his honor, and a second formal talk with President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

The towering Frenchman, a broad smile on his face, showed no fear as Mexicans broke through security cordons to surround him.

At one point, secret service men locked arms to shove the crowds back and De Gaulle was reaching over their shoulders to shake hands and wave in acknowledgment of applause.

House Approves Seashore Money

WASHINGTON D. C. — The House today passed a Department of Interior appropriation bill, including 7 million dollars for continued acquisition of property at the Point Reyes National Seashore, Rep. Don Clausen (R-Crescent City), announced.

Clausen said the bill also included 70 million dollars for construction of a national forest access roads important for the development of the resources of the North Coast area.

Digit Dialing Foes Lose

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Public Utilities Commission today approved the conversion of telephone companies in the state to all-number dialing.

The commission dissolved a temporary restraining order against digit dialing issued last September against Pacific Telephone Co.

In a unanimous 41-page decision, the commission declared that such "dehumanization" as might result from all-number calling is not significant enough to require a retention of exchange-name prefixes.

All-number dialing foes have said elimination of exchange names was necesssary because telephone companies did have enough letter-number combinations available to meet their future needs.

Mrs. JFK Pays Visit To Grave

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy today placed a shamrock on the grave of her husband. She visited the grave at Arlington Cemetery with Irish Ambassador Thomas J. Kiernan who left potted shamrocks in the shape of a cross.

The Irish ambassador had called on the widow of the late president to present her a companion piece to a Waterford vase which he presented to President Kennedy on St. Patrick's Day last year.

The vase is etched with the features of Commodore John Barry, a native of Wexford where Kennedy's ancestors were born.

Districting Ruling Due

The State Supreme Court has agreed to rule by Friday on the redistricting of Marin Supervisorial districts.

Friday is the deadline for filing for the June 2 primary election.

The San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce, through president William A. Henderson Jr., yesterday appealed to the State Supreme Court, a Marin Superior Court ruling upholding the "stop-gap" redistricting of last January.

That redistricting increased the population in district 4 (West Marin) from 1.8 per cent to 3.9 per cent of the whole county. The Junior Chambeer contends that 3.9 per cent is still too small.

Cyprus Peace Force Building

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—The United Nations peace force for Cyprus began building up in earnest today but its role in the crisis remained unclear.

While both sides talked in what was called a general and "exploratory meeting"—to be followed up by a second session next Monday—Mayor John F. Shelley worked to form an interim committee to handle racial grievances.

FLOOD DANGER CONTINUES

The swollen Ohio River posed new dangers for Southern Illinois towns today but most veterans sat out the deepest floodwaters in 14 years, including these ducks shown with the Cincinnati skyline in the background. A bitter cold front pushed across most of the Midwest and sent temperatures tumbling to as low as 40 degrees. The Ohio reached 53 feet, highest since 1950 when it crested at 55.3 feet. This year's crest is not expected until the weekend.

U.S. Says Russ Disarm Plan Invites Tyranny

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States today denounced the Soviet plan for nuclear disarmament as encouragement for tyranny and anarchy in the world rather than peace.

U.S. disarmament negotiator Adrian S. Fisher, in a speech to the 17-nation disarmament conference, said Russia could not "have its cake and eat it too" in making unrealistic disarmament proposals.

Fisher delivered a point-by-point rejection of the so-called "Gromyko Plan" for nuclear disarmament. He said the plan would give the Soviets a military advantage over the rest of the world.

The Soviet plan, first proposed two years ago by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, calls for the destruction of all nuclear weapons except for a limited number to be retained by the United States and Russia as a form of protective "umbrella."

Fisher said the plan would upset the East-West military balance, would do nothing to prevent cheating, would not permit international peacekeeping machinery, and was contradictory to its professed aims.

Cigarette Health Hazard Warning Battle Continuing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle over plans to label cigarettes with health hazard warnings resumes today.

Among the parade of witnesses at the opening session of the Federal Trade Commission's scheduled three-day hearings yesterday.

Dr. Eva Salber of Harvard University—She said television advertising has a strong impact on youngsters who ought to be warned that smoking may seem an adventure but soon becomes a dangerous habit.

Dr. Michael Shimkin, longtime foe of smoking — "At least for the past 40 years, the tobacco industry has shown the morals of a barracuda," he told the commission.

H. Thomas Austern, legal representative of the Tobacco Institute — The FTC does not have the authority to make binding rules that would force the cautionary labeling of cigarette packages or advertisements, he declared.

FTC Chairman Paul Rand Dixon said the commission would not have made the proposals unless it believed that it had the authority to do so.

'Accusations' Halt Bobby Baker Inquiry

Demo Chairman Rings Bell After Whitewash Charge

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman B. Everett Jordan (D-N.C.), today abruptly recessed the Senate's Bobby Baker inquiry, thus once again delaying a final decision on whether the exhaustive investigation will be halted.

Jordan recessed what had been billed as another Democratic-Republican showdown today on the question of ending the inquiry in order to draft a reply to a GOP charge that the investigation has been turned into a whitewash.

ASKING QUESTION

Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), told newsmen that Jordan's action came while he was asking a relevant question of Lennox P. McClendon, chief counsel for the committee in its investigation of the outside business interests of Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats.

McLendon has recommended that the committee proceed to drafting of remedial legislation to deal with conflict of interest questions raised by Baker's activities while a key Senate aide.

Republicans on the committee want to call more witnesses and Scott and Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb.), took the senate floor yesterday to protest what Curtis called a "whitewash."

SHORT MEETING

Today's meeting lasted only about 40 minutes. Jordan merged and read a short statement which he said he had made to the committee. He noted "some very serious accusations" had been made, challenging the committee's integrity and his integrity as chairman. This was obvious reference to the GOP statements.

The Jordan statement said he was recessing the hearings to consider "further action." He said later that expected no further action today.

Scott then told newsmen that the recess was called while he was questioning McClendon. Asked if he considered himself "gagged," Scott replied "I was certainly stopped."

"There is no strike threat now," O'Neill said in an interview. Union sources agreed with this appraisal.

Romanian Bid Fails To Heal Sino-Russ Split

MOSCOW (UPI) — A Romanian mission to Peking apparently has failed to improve Sino-Soviet relations and a new series of propaganda attacks can now be expected from Moscow, Eastern European sources said today.

The Romanians spent eight days in Communist China discussing the ideological split between Peking and Moscow and two days in the Soviet Union reporting on the talks to Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The delegation returned to Bucharest last night.

The terse joint communique issued at the conclusion of Maurer's Peking talks with Communist Chinese Leader Mao Tze-Tung. It said only that "views on questions of common interest were exchanged . . . in a friendly manner." It made no mention of progress.

The equally non-comittal communique following the talks with Khrushchev. It said special attention had been paid to "strengthening the unity and solidarity of socialist lands and the international communist movement," but again made no reference to progress in healing the split.

The continued Chinese propaganda attacks against Moscow. As the Romanians briefed Khrushchev at his Black Sea vacation place, Peking radio carried new anti-Soviet charges, accusing the Russians of splitting the ranks of the world's communists.

The Soviets have been holding back in their own propaganda attacks, but the sources said these tactics may now change.

Lessening Of Wind May Aid Firefighters In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Wind-whipped flames pushed through dry brush foothills today, harried by an army of firefighters armed with bulldozers, hand shovels and tanker trucks.

Two fires in mountains north of here have blackened nearly 12,000 acres of valuable watershed, already parched this year by only fractional rainfall.

At least 31 homes were destroyed or damaged by the searing flames that burst out yesterday in hopscotch fashion several miles apart and sent thousands of residents fleeing.

Hope for containment of the crackling flames came on the weather bureau's prediction of winds diminishing to a third of the 100-mile-an-hour gusts of yesterday. With gusts of only 30-35 miles an hour the aerial bomber fleet can take up the fight it was prevented from making when the fires began.

Fire control officials were cautious in predicting hope because of continued low humidity and scorching 80-degree temperatures.

Gallinas Creek Dredging Cost Under Study

A new plan for financing the dredging of Gallinas Creek is being studied by the Marin County counsel's office.

Under the proposal, Marin County may be asked to join in the project and pay for construction of a small boat harbor in the lagoon at the county fairgrounds near the Civic Center.

The proposal is to form a small craft harbors district. It would include lots along Vendola Drive which back onto the creek, parts of the Smith Ranch, and the lagoon area. Dredging project could be financed by general obligation bonds, an assessment procedure, revenue bonds, a joint powers agreement with the county, or some combination of these.

A small craft harbor district is a special district established in the law in 1959. There is only one in the state, at Oceanside (San Diego County), according to the latest report of the State Controller.

The district has the right to levy a tax up to 75 cents per $100 assessed valuation, and can use part of this to pay off revenue bonds if necessary.

The district can also issue general obligation bonds to any amount, apparently, according to deputy county counsel James Gustin. Such a district has the power to raise money to dredge and maintain a harbor, construct roads, maintain fire protection services, and provide beaches and recreation programs.

A special committee has been studying dredging the creek, mainly to provide adequate draft for boats owned by homeowners now in the area. The proposal for formation of the new district has been sent to the county local agency formation commission for consideration.

Larkspur Council To Ponder Pay Hikes

Salary raises for employees, other than police and firemen, will be considered at the Larkspur City Council meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the city hall.

Also on the agenda are discussion of a proposed subdivision ordinance and of the relationship between the city staff and council, and recruitment procedures for a city manager, to be suggested by Mayor Lesly A. Daveler.

Ross Hospital Gets Construction Permit

The Marin County planning commission yesterday granted Ross General Hospital a permit to construct a $400,000 addition which will provide 36 beds.

Under the permit, the hospital must provide one parking space for each available bed, double the minimum parking required by county ordinance.

Dr. John C. Siemens, hospital administrator, said the hospital is planning to acquire parking space for 40 cars at Toussin Street and Geary Avenue. This would make a total of 164 parking spaces available for 153 beds.

The hospital addition will be constructed on a hillside between two existing buildings.

Two Marinites To Study At Stanford In Europe

Two former Redwood High School classmates, Barbara Ann Burns and Elizabeth Penn Hammond, sophomores at Stanford University, will leave for the university's study centers in Europe March 28, it was announced today.

Miss Burns, 19, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Howard Burns of 122 Goodhill Road, Kentfield, will be a member of the 80-student campus at Tours, France, and has been elected social chairman for the group.

She was active in freshman activities at Stanford where she is majoring in French and was a pom pom girl this year.

Miss Hammond, 19, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Howard Hammond of 455 Woodland Road, Kentfield, will join the 80 students going to the Florence, Italy, campus in New York after visiting friends in Kansas.

She was valedictorian of her graduating class at Redwood High School and has been a member of the board of directors of the student union at Stanford. She is majoring in history.

Both girls are planning to return to California in September in order to register for the fall quarter at the Stanford campus.

Kennedy Library Chairman Picked

Thomas Combs of Mill Valley has been named chairman of the drive at College of Marin to raise funds for the proposed 10 million dollar John Fitzgerald Kennedy Library in Boston.

The local drive has been organized under a national student committee, part of the Kennedy Library Corp.

Probation Overtime Pay Is Hit By Ludy

County Supervisor George H. Ludy today said he was annoyed by weekly requests from the probation department for overtime pay for certain workers.

He was most annoyed, he said, to learn that Walter H. Busher, chief probation officer who has been complaining about not having enough staff, went to San Francisco yesterday to sit in on the Supreme Court hearing on supervisorial redistricting.

Ludy said Busher had no business being there.

He also noted that a request was received today for overtime pay for a man working at the top step in the salary scale.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker asked whether the overtime was becoming simply a device for increasing salaries. If so, he contended, the salaries generally should be looked at.

Leydecker also suggested that deputy probation officers, as professionals, perhaps should not get overtime pay. Personnel Director Robert D. Elliott said he would look into the matter. He said that at budget time he would recommend a revamping of the ordinance dealing with overtime.

Novato Swimming Pool Program Tentatively Set

The Novato swimming pool program has been tentatively set to start the middle of July, Edmund Mahany, parks and recreation director, last night told the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission.

"I cannot get a firm commitment from the contractor, so I have set the program to start about the middle of July," Mahany said.

Excavation for the pool started on Feb. 7, and the contractor has 120 days to complete it.

The commission also recommended that the city council invite a representative of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments to explain its functions to all Novato city commission, the city council and interested citizens. The Novato City Council voted to join ABAG at its last meeting.

Eugene Trombley recommended that city and county study the area around the Marin County Airport for a joint city-county water recreation area. He was asked to make a study of it and report back to the commission.

The commission also invited a member of the city planning commission to meet with it to discuss parks.

It postponed action on a recommendation on city purchase of land surrounding the old Novato Cemetery for a park, until after the city council holds a hearing on April 20.

Weekend could also use extra money, and asked why the Visitors Bureau had not done more to publicize that event.

Leydecker said he felt the advertising money could be raised by private subscription. He said that interest in the project would be increased if individuals contributed more.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman agreed, saying he had opposed taxpayer support for the Marvelous Marin organization, which once carried out functions of the Visitors Bureau (and which Fusselman headed).

Most taxes in the county are paid by homeowners, Fusselman added, and many of them are not interested in such projects. In fact, he added, many would like to keep people from coming to Marin County.

Death Row Gains One, Loses One

San Quentin prison officials were scheduled to gain one man and lose another at Death Row today, thus "breaking even," so that the total number of inmates there remained at the all-time high of 51.

William J. Ford, 36, was to return to San Luis Obispo County for a new trial, called for when the state Supreme Court recently reversed an earlier conviction for murder. Ford had been at San Quentin since Feb. 15, 1961.

But the loss of Ford made no headway toward cutting down the total, explained Associate Warden Dale B. Frady, since his place would be taken by William Earl Cotter Jr., 24, of Los Angeles County, also convicted of murder and sentenced to death.

Larkspur Trustees To Discuss Raises

A preview of what teachers in the Larkspur School District would ask in terms of pay raises if the June 2 tax and bond election is passed will be given school board members at their meeting at 8 p.m. today in the district office.

Further discussion of the preliminary budget, a report by the tax-bond committee, and action on the resolution calling for the election are also scheduled.

College Committee

The development committee of the College of Marin Citizens Committee will meet at 8 p.m. today in Room 24 of Harlan Hall to discuss formation of a college foundation to accept grants, and different ways scholarships and loans can be obtained.

Bagley Wants Appraisers In Civil Service

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Assemblyman William T. Bagley, (R-San Rafael) today introduced legislation placing state inheritance tax appraisers under civil service.

The measure, which would take away the controller's present power to appoint appraisers, has been defeated in the past. The officials receive a percentage of the estates they appraise.

Cranston is running for the U.S. Senate seat of Clair Engle and, if he wins, Democratic Gov. Brown would appoint his successor.

Bagley asked the governor "to support this measure in the interests of efficient administration and cost saving, even though the administration might feel that the next controller might be a Democrat who will need the political patronage afforded by the current appointment system."

Tomales Trustees Plan Bond Sale

Tomales High School District trustees in a special meeting last night authorized sale of $175,000 in bonds which were approved by the voters on Jan. 14.

The bonds were voted to repair the main building and replace the shop building at the high school.

"I'm afraid we will not be able to get any of the work done this summer because of the shortage of time," said Roy Parks, chairman. He said the board could not start with the project until the bonds had been approved.

The board also authorized a voluntary payroll deduction for life insurance for the teachers, Parks said.

Her condition today was good, hospital attendants said, and she was expected to be released soon.

hired by the Terra Linda Valley Homeowners Assn., also presented a series fo speakers, headed by Robert Loberg, the association's president, who had done most of the talking for the protestants at hearings before the planning commission.

Loberg brought out that although the planning commission approved planned community zoning by 4-3 vote, Commissioner Orlando Conti, who made the motion, said at the next meeting, "I was so damned confused at the time, I don't know what I meant."

Keith Roberts, of the homeowners association, said, "We see 1,186 apartments on that hill as a bomb dropped into the middle of our community." Ellison mentioned petitions circulated on behalf of the Draper Companies which he claimed were drawn to give the impression they were from the homeowners group—and were signed by some people in that belief. (The petitions were not submitted to the council.)

After Halprin had argued the hill as the very place for apartments, and that his design preserved its beauty, nearby resident Roger Allen arose to say he and other Terra Lindans did not subscribe to Halprin's idea of beauty.

"These apartments could well become tenements. . . They could well be the seeds of blight that will be cast upon beautiful Marin," declared Allen.

At that point, another unscheduled speaker strode from the back of the room: Carlos Freitas, whose family sold the 86 acres to the Draper Companies.

Freitas related that he grew up on the old Freitas Home Ranch which is now Terra Linda. He recalled that many in Marin opposed the Golden Gate Bridge because they "did not want anyone else to come to Marin County," and that residents of one-acre lots in Los Ranchitos objected strongly when the first Terra Linda units were allowed on 6,000-square foot lots.

It was Freitas who disclosed the hill had always been called Quail Hill by his family.

He said the apartment plan as displayed by the Draper Companies was so attractive "I might even come and live there."

When Mayor McInnis finally ended the hearing at 11 p.m., Councilman Charles W. Aby asked if there were a subdivision map. City Engineer Dominic J. Selmi said none had been filed. This, said Aby, "is one of the essentials" for planned community zoning.

"I'm thinking of East San Rafael," said Councilman Fred E. Jensen. "In those apartments down there, on Saturday morning you don't know where who lives . . . Now we have the same development on Nova Albion Way."

The Terra Lindans, he said, "voted to annex to San Rafael; they put their trust in the council. . . I think it's their district."

This brought the loudest applause, and the crowd was only slightly sobered when told by McInnis, Aby and Councilman L. H. Bud Baar that the hill had long ago been marked for apartments and some undoubtedly will be put there.

"The problem seems to be how many," said Mayor McInnis. He called Draper's reduction from 1,200 units, which was first asked, to 1,136 "throwing a peanut to a herd of elephants."

Jensen's motion for denial brought a quick second from Councilman Harry A. Barbier. The unanimous vote followed.

Supervisors Increase Pay For Planners

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today approved increases in planners salaries to total $337 a monht for the rest of the fiscal year. Several employees newly hired in the department were given range increases, but their present salaries were held level.

The supervisors agreed with Planning Director B. D. Dobbs that his pay should be set at least five 5-per-cent steps above the next highest employee in the department. Personnel Director Robert R. Elliott had proposed four steps difference, but the salary, in any case would have been the same.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said he felt top levels salaries in the county were generally too low. He said in private enterprise, top salaries were usually a third above the next level. The pay should signify a major added level of ability and responsibilty, he said.

Leydecker said he felt clerk's salaries in county service were high enough, but that there was a squeeze in the salaries of persons with the most ability and responsibility.

Taxi Owner Enters Race In Tiburon

Charles T. Cohen, owner of Ted's Taxi and Airport Service, late yesterday picked up nomination papers for the June 2 Tiburon City Council election.

Cohen lives at 488 Irving Court with his wife, Lucy, and four children. He has driven a taxi cab around the area for six years, having originally worked for Frederick G. Zelinsky and later going into business for himself.

Another set of papers was taken out reportedly for Edward A. Gratonik. He has lived in Tiburon for 17 years. The Gratoniks came to the area after World War II in which he was a Navy flyer. He and Arnold Vasa operate the Corinthian Pharmacy.

A budget subcommittee meeting of the Tiburon Incorporation Committee last night was attended by a dozen residents.

Subventions (income other than property taxes) for a new City of Tiburon were estimated at $121,000 for fiscal year starting July 1 in a report by Fred C. Hannahs. Leo Souza, subcommittee chairman, said a report will be forthcoming from the county April 1 giving estimates of expenses for contract services of planning, street maintenance, and law enforcement.

Kelly J. Wheeler said office space for the proposed city might be available in one of the old Northwestern Pacific Railroad buildings. Space is also available in the firehouse, said Wheeler.

Souza announced that Dean Seeger, Hayward planning consultant, will speak at an incorporation committee meeting Thursday at 8 p.m. at Reed School.

School Trustees To Study Proposed Laws

Marin County School District trustees will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the Civic Center for a discussion of pending state legislation and for decisions on whether to take stands on any legislative issues.

Top of the agenda will be consideration of Assembly bill 46, the proposal by Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh to consolidate school districts into countywide districts.

Marinwood Fire Chief Asks $32,000 Budget

Marinwood Fire Chief Joseph Medley last night submitted a preliminary budget of $32,000 to the Marinwood fire commission. Study on the budget is expected to continue at the April meeting of the commission.

Medley said part of the money would go into a fund for purchase of a new truck.

WARDEN

to accompany condemned men to the gas chamber.

Overcrowding (4,446 inmates in a facility built for 2,800) will continue to be a big problem, Warden Wilson admitted. But he sees hope for some remodeling and facelifting inside the walls — "at least put hot water into the cells."

Outgoing Warden Fred R. Dickson, 63, who has been appointed to the California Adult Authority, was on hand at the press conference. Although Wilson officially took over as warden yesterday, Dickson will be at San Quentin for the rest of this week to orient the new warden to his duties.

Outsde of condemned row, individual cells have no hot water at present. A guard goes from cell to cell, pouring hot water into containers for shaving and for instant coffee, Dickson explained.

The new warden was superintendent of the Soledad Prison correctional training facility until his transfer to San Quentin.

Warden Wilson received a master's degree in school administration from the University of Nebraska. He served for 10 years as superintendent of public schools in Nebraska, then entered the correction field at Nebraska State Industrial School for Boys.

It was there that Wilson first met Dickson, who was superintendent.

In 1944, Wilson joined the California Department of Corrections at San Quentin, serving as vocational and educational counselor. In 1947, he went to Folsom, and in 1956, to Soledad.

Warden Wilson and his wife, Frances, will make their home in the warden's residence at San Quentin. He is an avid amateur radio operator and was a professional trombone player while attending University of Nebraska.

A son, Larry K. Wilson, is in federal employ in Sacramento.

Coroner Still Unable To Identify Body

The San Francisco coroner's office reported today it still had not been able to identify the probable suicide victim whose body was found Sunday off Rocky Point between Muir and Stinson beaches.

The man, believed to have jumped off the Golden Gate Bridge several days previously, was five feet, nine inches tall, weighed 180 pounds and had brown hair. He was thought to be from 30 to 40 years old. When found, the body was clad only in shoes, socks and a necktie.

Marin School Heads To Meet On Tax Law

Members of the Marin Assn. of School Administrators will meet at 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Civic Center for a seminar on the new state law allowing school districts to levy an override tax for alleged extra costs of educating seventh and eighth graders.

The new tax, which does not require voter approval, will be explained, and procedures for computing an individual district's needs will be outlined.

Session Postponed

Regular meeting of the Lagunitas School District board, scheduled tonight has been postponed until 8 p.m. next Tuesday at the school to allow trustees to attend a meeting on school legislation tonight at the civic center.

COUNCIL SPLITS ON PAY-TV ISSUE

Barbier Absents Self From San Rafael Vote As Baar, Jensen Seek Initiative Backing

The San Rafael City Council split down the middle early today on whether to endorse an initiative measure to make pay television unconstitutional in California.

With Councilman Harry A. Barbier absenting himself from the vote because of possible conflict of interest, Councilman L. H. Bud Baar's motion to back the initiative failed by a 2-2 division. Councilman Fred E. Jensen voted with Baar. Mayor John F. McInnis and Councilman Charles W. Aby were against.

Barbier explained that as he is employed by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., over whose cables subscription television programs would be carried, there might be a conflict of interest. He left the council's meeting room in the San Rafael Recreation Center while the vote was taken.

The pay TV proposal, on the agenda at Baar's insistence, came up at 12:10 a.m.

Uurging the initiative endorsement from the floor were:

Mrs. Walter H. Tait on behalf of the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council, who claimed pay-TV "will gradually usurp the talent . . . until finally free TV will be so poor it will be non-existent." She said the motion picture council "represents P-TAs throughout the area" and its board has gone on record unanimously against pay-TV.

Senior citizen Manny Charnow, who pleaded, "Don't take television away from the old people and the sick people who have no other entertainment." Subscription television, Charnow feared, might result in that.

Earl Woodall, president of the local Film Projectionists Union, who said, "Our stand is merely to get this on the ballot, then the people can decide."

Al Goodwin, manager of Blumenfeld Theaters, who quoted from presidents of Columbia Broadcasting System and National Broadcasting Co. that free and pay television could not exist side-by-side, and asked that the voters be given a chance to "save free TV."

Urging the council to take no stand were:

Keigler Flake, Northern California sales manager for Subscription TV, who said: "We are prepared to stand or fall on our product and ability to serve the customers . . . Subscription TV does not seek the legislative death of any of our competitors . . . No one is forced to subscribe . . . We have no desire to bring about the end of commercial TV as we now know it."

Hal Schwartz, president of Angel Toll-Vision (which, unlike Subscription TV, would be sent over the airwaves and therefore subject to Federal Communications Commission regulation), who declared the initiative proposed "denying private citizens the right to patronize pay-TV in their homes." He said the initiative campaign is financed and promoted by theater owners and commercial television broadcasting chains who seek to legislate competition out of existence.

Baar, who opened with an expression of thanks to Mrs. Yolanda Godfrey, Marin Motion Picture Council president, for a letter on the subject, expressed fear of the death of free television and said the World Series likely will soon be on pay TV if it is started.

Jensen argued the ballot initiative "is the way to decide it . . . I'm thinking of Jensen watching TV programs. Pretty soon I'll have to drop a couple of dollars in the slot."

McInnis said he opposed the initiative "as a tool to put somebody out of business."

Aby, directing his remarks particularly at Goodwin, declared: "Nobody put an initiative on the ballot to decide whether we would have motion picture theaters, and they certainly destroyed vaudeville . . . The theaters screamed when free TV came along. Now you say you want to protect it . . . The place to decide whether we have pay TV is whether the people subscribe to it . . . There will be pay-TV in other states, whether we have it in California or not."

Windows Broken; Man To Napa

Walter C. Dowell, 36, was taken to Napa State Hospital Sunday after an incident in which he cut himself while breaking several windows at the Santa Venetia home of his estranged wife, Marin County sheriff's office said.

Deputies said Mrs. Laura Jane Dowell, 137 Vendola Drive, told them Dowell broke out five windows, cutting himself on both arms. Officers said they found him lying on the front porch, bleeding profusely.

He was taken to San Rafael General Hospital for treatment, then transferred to Napa.

Finishes Course

John R. Thomas, Navy aviation fire control technician airman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russel A. Thomas of 770 Tamalpais Avenue, Novato, has been graduated from the Aviation Fire Control Technician School, bomb director course, at the Naval Air Technical Training Center at Memphis, Tenn.

Mill Valley's Sidewalks To Blossom

Boxes and half-barrels of flowers will be placed along Mill Valley sidewalks Saturday for the city's Easter floral display.

The event is sponsored by the chamber of commerce, with manpower furnished by the city.

A barnyard scene with lambs, ducks and chickens will be set up next week in Lytton Square, according to Normand B. Black, co-chairman with Charles F. Berlenbach Jr.

Oblong redwood planter boxes and planter tubs, made from whisky kegs sawed in half and stained a redwood color, will be placed in front of 90 per cent of the city shops. All containers will be on sale with money collected to be used for the perpetual fund for the event.

Persons wishing to order the containers, to be picked up on the Monday and Tuesday after Easter, may do so through the chamber office, 85 Throckmorton Avenue or at El Marin Florist-Gifts.

Flowers will be French hydrangeas, margo and Dick Costa floribunda roses, azaleas, and Easter lilies.

Submerged Lands Plan Gains In San Rafael

The San Rafael City Council last night set in motion an assessment district proceeding which may make 232 more acres of submerged lands available for development.

Resolutions were adopted approving the boundary may and setting hearing for April 6 on formation of the Marin Canalways Assessment District. It embraces 232 acres along the San Rafael Canal channel from Francisco Boulevard to the edge of the Marin Rod and Gun Club property. The assessment district would dredge a deep water channel and build dikes to prevent inundation of the land.

Dan Coleman and Associates were certified as engineers for the job, which they estimated to cost $325,000. Sturgis, Den-Dulk, Douglass and Anderson were appointed attorneys.

Fourteen property owners signed petitions for the district, which includes 24 parcels. Samuel W. Gardiner, prime mover for its formation, said another assessment district involving the same property likely would be proposed later to add further improvements.

All the land is below high tide and would have to be filled before buildings could be put there. Gardiner told a reporter he is hopeful of industrial development.

The city council also moved ahead on another big assessment district — East San Rafael Assessment District No. 2 — awarding the contract for public improvements to Linscott Co. of San Rafael, low bidder at $807,261. This district, bordering the East San Rafael apartment district and including San Rafael Newport subdivision, is to provide drainage and major streets.

The San Rafael City Council also:

1. Approved an exchange of properties with P. L. Friendshuh and Sam Busschaert in connection with the Bellam Boulevard extension in which Friendshuh will pay the city $9,756, and Busschaert, $6,699.

2. Called for bids to be opened April 6 on a storm drain on Second Street from Brooks to Lincaro Street.

3. Referred to the city attorney, city manager and public works director a complaint about failure to complete improvements on Scenic Avenue, with instructions to the city attorney to file suit if necessary.

4. Awarded Pacific Excavators of Albany the contract for demolition of buildings to make way for westerly extension of Third Street, on its low bid of $1,785.

5. Designated Rafael Drive a one-way street westbound between Jewell Street and Belle Avenue from 8 to 9 a.m. and 2:15 to 4 p.m., and Mission Avenue a one-way street eastbound from Wilkins Street to Laurel Place from 8 to 8:40 a.m. and 2:15 to 3 p.m. Public Works Director Norris Rawles said this would merely legalize what has already been done to protect school children during these hours.

6. Directed City Atty. David Menary Jr. to take whatever action is necessary "with every bit of dispatch possible" to force D. M. Christensen to remove stone planters and retaining walls which encroach on the city right of way at 400 Canal Street. Rawles said he had told Christensen he could not permit the encroachment and Christensen installed the works anyway.

7. Set for hearing April 6 San Rafael Newport Co.'s application for planned community zoning to permit seven duplexes between Porto Bello and Harbor Estates along San Pedro Road.

8. Set for hearing April 6 Morden Dunn's appeal of planning commission turndown of a permit for the Rafael Woods subdivision off Meyer Road and C Street.

9. Adopted the uniform county animal control ordinance, which increases dog license fees from $3 to $4 per year.

10. Approved plans for Fire Station No. 4 in Glenwood, with a proviso for addition to the specifications by the architect, and called for bids to be opened April 6.

11. Established salaries for William Vaning and two of his workers, who were added to the city payroll as city tree crew March 1. Vaning will receive $551 per month as tree foreman; Jan Chmielowiec, $476 as tree climber, and Roger D. Courbin, $400 as tree maintenance man.

12. Places Charles Linthicum on the payroll as planning technician at $488 per month. He began work March 2.

13. Authorized Joseph D. Rodota, recreation and parks director, to recruit for a park foreman in the salary scale of $538 to $654 per month, after Rodota reported he had been unable to find qualified applicants at the proposed scale of $453 to $551 per month.

The meeting lasted until 1 a.m. today. All councilmen were present.

Ethiopia's population of about 20 million is mainly a mixture of Hamites, Semites and Negroids.

Honor Due Lifesaving Stewardess

Joan Prince, a Mill Valley stewardess, will be presented with a certificate of merit tomorrow morning in the air over San Francisco in honor of having saved a woman's life on a plane in 1962.

Miss Prince, of 744 Bay Road gave mouth-to-mouth respiration to a woman who had suffered a heart attack March 12, 1962, when a Pacific Air Lines plane was en route from Monterey to Vandenberg Air Force Base.

The plane landed at Vandenberg where a doctor gave Miss Prince credit for saving the woman's life.

The certificate and a pin will be presented on behalf of the Red Cross by Charles W. Fay, chairman of the Red Cross Bay Area Council. The plane's pilot will also receive a certificate and pin.

All stewardesses, according to Mrs. A. C. Anderson, Marin County Red Cross chapter executive director, are trained in first aid and artificial resuscitation.

A duck can endure submersion for 10 to 20 minutes.

Catering Truck Money Is Stolen

AMMON HENNACY VISITS

Christian Anarchist Tells His Views On Taxes, Draft

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Ammon Hennacy was secretary of the Socialist Party in Lisbon, Ohio, at 16.

He refused to register for the draft in World War I and was jailed in Atlanta for eight and one-half months. He became an athiest.

Since 1918 he has been what he calls a "pacifist Christian anarchist." In 1952, he became a Catholic.

"Today," said the 70-year-old man with flowing white hair and a toothbrush in his lapel pocket, "I'm one of about five Catholic anarchists in the country."

Hennacy has paid no taxes in 21 years and now owes $1,500, he said. "I don't go to war. I don't register for the draft. I don't sit on a jury and don't vote," he said.

"I don't believe in any kind of government. Laws — good people don't need them, bad people don't obey them so what good are they? An anarchist is someone who doesn't have to have a cop to make him behave."

Hennacy visited in Marin Sunday and yesterday, a guest of Bruce Sloan of Kentfield. He is collecting funds to reopen a home for sober transients in Salt Lake City and to help pay for his book, "The Book of Ammon," to be published this fall. He spoke yesterday before College of Marin students, and Sunday at the Marin Peace Center, Mill Valley.

Hennacy was a social worker in Milwaukee 11 years, a migrant worker in Colorado and New Mexico for just as long. He picketed in New York against bomb shelters and, approving of sit-ins, picketed Saturday at the Cadillac agency in San Francisco.

"Anything less than the Sermon on the Mount isn't religion," said Hennacy when asked if there were any conflicts between Catholicism and anarchism. "I believe in the Father, Son and Holy Ghost and go to Mass and Communion daily."

From County Cork and a vegetarian, Hennacy has fasted each year since Hiroshima and Nagasaki. Each year he fasts one day more. This year it will be 19 days.

"My favorite saint is Joan of Arc," he said, pointing to a medal he wore on a long chain around his neck. "She fought the 'limies' and the church. They killed her. I'm fighting the politicians who run the church. I get along good with the Mormons. The old Mormons were good radicals but now the bankers run the Mormon church the same as the others."

Hennacy plans to re-open the Joe Hill House of Hospitality and St. Joseph's Refuge when he gets back to Salt Lake, saying that anyone who wants to contribute may send money to him at 1586 South 15th East Street, Salt Lake City.

Here are some Hennacy-isms:

"I live like St. Francis. I live poor. I can't take it with me. I allow them (the bums) to sleep one month on the floor. I sleep on the floor too. I feed them free. I don't bible-bang them. No prayers. No songs. I'm not a communist; I don't trust them. I'm an anarchist.

"I was married. My wife left me and took our two daughters. I visit them. They are good kids but they are bourgeois.

"My birthday is Brigham Young day, July 24, so I should end my days in Salt Lake City.

"By shaking hands with my enemy I got into the Catholic church. God tells you what to say. Being Irish helps a lot.

"I quit tea and coffee when I went to Salt Lake. I don't smoke nor drink. Since 16 I was a rebel. I love my enemies. I'm hell on my friends.

Russia is getting more capitalistic, we're getting more socialistic.

"If someone wants to change the world he has to get 51 per cent bullets or 51 per cent ballots. If I want to change it all I have to do is keep on what I'm doing. Every day the government loses. Every day I win.

"If there were 100 people like me in 100 cities, the walls of Jericho would come tumbling down.

"I have nothing for anybody to join. I just wind people up and if they go dead on me it's their own darn fault. I won't win. I will never lose. Simply because you can't fight Santa Claus.

"I didn't join the church to bore from within. I joined because I get a little bit of rest and peace.

CROWD ENGULFS DE GAULLE

President Charles de Gaulle of France is engulfed by crowd in City Square of Mexico City yesterday as he leaves the National Palace. De Gaulle spoke to crowd of about 300,000 gathered at square from the balcony of the palace, the first foreign head of state to ever do so. The French leader is in Mexico for a four-day visit. Showdown Nearing On School, Rumford Vote

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown set the stage today for an Assembly Democratic-Republican showdown on when the people should vote on school bonds and housing discrimination.

He threw his support behind bills to put his 620 million dollars in bond issues on a November test, along with the initiative to nullify the 1963 Rumford Act banning most housing discrimination and similar future legislation.

These special session developments came while his 3.66-billion-dollar fiscal 1964-65 budget neared the Assembly floor. Chairman Robert W. Brown of the Assembly ways and means committee said the heavily Democratic committee probably would vote on his final budget bill late this afternoon.

Sen. Walter W. Stiern (D-Bakersfield), planned to introduce today the administration's 360-million-dollar bond issue for University of California, state and junior college construction, and facilities for penal and mental institutions.

The 260-million-dollar bond issue for state funds for local school building was put in yesterday. Both call for a November vote.

The Assembly's GOP caucus, however, has urged a June vote on the local school bonds, and a bill is in providing for that. If any bond is on the primary ballot, the housing initiative also must be.

Brown also announced that he and former Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight would serve as honorary co-chairmen of a bipartisan committee backing 150-million-dollars in beaches and parks bonds put on the November ballot by the 1963 legislature.

The Democratic chief executive called the proposal — vetoed by voters in 1963—"crucial to California's future."

Brown declared in a statement that he asked the legislature to place the bonds on the November ballot for two reasons:

1. "Because of the presidential election, we will have the largest possible turnout of voters . . .

2. To avoid putting the housing initiative to a June 2 decision — leaving little time to mount a drive against the anti-Rumford Act proposal Brown strongly opposes.

It takes 54 votes—to-thirds—to pass the bonds out of the Assembly. Democrats hold 50 seats, Republicans 28 and there are two vacancies. The Senate's 27-13 Democratic margin is just two-thirds.

Firm Hired To Start Jones Park Improvement

An engineering firm was hired last night to get improvement of Victor Jones Memorial Park started.

The San Rafael City Council voted to hire Dan Coleman and Associates to plan the park's drainage and grading after hearing Robert G. Bruce of the Glenwood Home Owners Assn. plead that a contract for the work be awarded not later than April 15.

Bruce pointed out the city purchased the park property in November, 1961, but has started no improvement.

City Engineer Dominic J. Selmi said contours drawn by landscape architects Robero and Sue of Berkeley for the park were "impossible." Redesign has been pigeon-holed because the engineering staff has been tied up on more pressing problems, he said.

Asked by Mayor John F. McInnis how much it would cost to hire an outside engineering firm, Selmi said "not more than $1,000." Councilman Fred E. Jensen then moved the Coleman firm be hired with a fee limit set at $1,000, and the motion passed unanimously.

Bruce noted in his presentation that the Glenwood area is filling up rapidly, with 287 homes now occupied and more than 300 others under construction or proposed.

Wife Listed As Possible Suicide

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The death of Mrs. Martha Coates, 24, was listed as a probable suicide today, but a full investigation into it has been ordered by homicide inspectors.

Mrs. Coates, an expectant mother, was found dead in the empty bathtub of her home yesterday by her husband, David, a 26-year-old stockbroker.

Her body was found face down in the tub, with a necktie knotted about her throat and tied to a bathtub fixture above her.

Dr. Henry Turkey, San Francisco coroner, said he did not want to call it officially a suicide until he investigated blood spots in the house.

Assembly Group Seeks Funds For Vet Education Aid

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Taking the reverse stand from a Senate group, an Assembly committee recommends continuing a program of state education aid to thousands of California veterans and their dependents.

The lower house ways and means committee yesterday approved the requested 3.73 million dollars to run the program in fiscal 1964-65, but turned down a request that it be financed from surplus funds in the Veterans' Farm and Home Building Loan Fund.

A Senate finance subcommittee has refused to provide funds for the assistance. If the full Senate upholds that action, and the Assembly approves the program, it will go to a conference committee of the two houses for solution.

Brown Pay Bill To Legislature

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown's bill to raise pay for top state officials from 1 to 30 per cent has gone to the legislature.

Introduced yesterday by Sen. J. Eugene McAteer (D-San Francisco) it would cost $253,679 yearly and require that all appointed officials serve "at the pleasure of the governor." Some now are named to definite terms.

The governor and director of finance would not receive pay boosts under the measure.

Corte Madera Orders Study Of Video Cable Franchise

Corte Madera town councilmen last night lent an interested ear to a proposal for a television cable franchise in the town.

Lindsey H. Spight of Television Communications Inc. presented the request for a non-exclusive franchise.

Spight said, "We do not base our request on pay television in any way."

He used the sample fee which is charged in the East Bay. This would be $25 for a connection and $5 a month.

As an indication of the company's intentions, Spight said they had put in escrow yesterday the purchase of a site for an antenna on top of the Corte Madera Ridge.

The council directed Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow to look into different types of franchise ordinances and report back in five or six weeks.

Brown Asked To Put Air Rules On Agenda

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown has been asked to place the problem of intrastate airline regulation on the 1964 special session agenda. Brown has said he doubts he'll accept any more special items.

The request came yesterday from Assemblyman John C. Williamson (D-Bakersfield), and Sen. Thomas M. Rees (D-Los Angeles), who said they were trying to prevent disasters similar to the recent crash of a Paradise Airlines plane near Lake Tahoe which killed 85 persons.

Almcrants Gets It On Chin For Foul Up In Sewer Connections

Mill Valley councilmen, tackling a sewer line problem along Corte Madera Avenue last night, blamed it on the administration of former City Mgr. A. E. Almcrants, who resigned last October.

Residents of the east side of the avenue protested because City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer proposed they bear the cost of hooking into the new sewer line.

The 16 propertly owners involved said owners on the west side of the avenue were connected without charge, and that they were not forewarned by the city so they could tie into the line when the street was torn up last night.

Balmer said if he had been city manager then he would not have approved of free hookups. "To make up for one error, I don't want to make another," he said. "I don't think the city can afford it."

Councilman George Blackwell said, "If the administration choses to make a mistake, there is no reason the city council should condone it."

"Perhaps if the city made a mistake, we should try to rectify it," said Councilman Michael Wornum. "It's not fair to penalize the downhill owners, and not the uphill."

"Wouldn't that be covering up a wrong?" asked Councilman William M. Secor. "We have no obligation."

"I think we have an obligation. The others got a free ride," Wornum replied.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks said, "We'll see things like this coming out from under rocks we overturn."

The council agreed to consider the property owners' request that the city pay for the connection to the property line, give them longer than three months to connect to the line, and dispense with the $33.50 connection fee.

Mrs. John Farham of 216 Corte Madera Avenue said most of the property owners involved want to maintain the old line for a while. Councilmen postponed action on a resolution to abandon the old line, pending further study.

The council session opened with presentation of 20 knobcone Pine seedlings to the city by seven girls from Brownie Troop 1966, led by Mrs. Richard Parino.

Brownie Sherry New presented one of the seedlings to Mayor Sheeks, who praised the girls for their interest in the beauty of the city.

Sherry's aunt, Lelia Crouch, information specialist for the California Region of the U.S. Forest Service, obtained the seedlings from the genetics station at Placerville a month ago the girls planted them. The Brownies will care for the seedlings until June, then turn them over to the city for planting.

During the half-hour public forum preceding the meeting, the council explained its policy on street maintenance, saying that streets not accepted by the city are only maintained to the extent they were improved and kept open for traffic.

The Mill Valley City Council also:

1. Introduced an ordinance calling for a $325,000 bond issue for a new city library, passed a resolution requestion county supervisors to consolidate the bond election with the June 2 primary election, and set March 23 at 8 a.m. for an adjourned meeting to adopt the election ordinace.

2. Appointed Herbert Street, city building inspector, as a non-voting member of the planning commission.

3. Called for bids on construction of a sludge centrifuge at the sewer plant, to be opened May 4. The cost is estimated at $50,000, with the city paying 76.6 per cent; the Almonte, Kay Park, Alto and Homestead Valley Sanitary Districts to pay the remainder.

4. Budgeted $27,929 in state funds to be used in combination with $66,000 in county funds for construction of the Miller Avenue extension from Camino Alto to Almonte Boulevard.

5. Referred proposed rezoning of three parcels at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto back to the planning commission for reconsideration.

6. Granted William Pemberton permission to keep a horse on his property at 481 Summit Avenue, after a hearing at which there was no protest.

7. Authorized a $10,000 advance for the Community Center from the parks and receration fund, thereby making $20,000 available for the project.

8. Passed a resolution vacating a sanitary sewer easement along Cypress Avenue.

9. Passed a resolution of intent to annex Redwood Camp Part II, and set public hearing on the annexation May 4.

10. Set April 6 for a public hearing on rezoning of Cascade Park and Old Mill Park to open aera.

11. Adjourned in memory of Lt. Charles H. McCourtney a retired member of the Mill Valley Police Department, who died yesterday.

The center was placed onto its permanent pinnings and a thorough cleanup was given. Many of the men were from the Lions Club and many teenagers represented the youth council made up of seventh and eighth graders from Our Lady of Mount Carmel and Edna Maguire schools. MRS. VILAS BACKED IN RECALL BATTLE

San Geronimo Valley Assn. On Record To Help Trustee Of Lagunitas School

Members of the San Geronimo Valley Assn. last night entered the hot political fray by taking a strong stand against recall of Mrs. Georgette Vilas from the Lagunitas School District board.

Mrs. Vilas, recording secretary of the association, is fighting recall in an election set for May 5. The recall was initiated soon after Mrs. Vilas joined two other members of the board in a 3-2 vote not to renew the contract of Supt. Clifford L. Frye in June.

Mrs. Winnifred Frederick of Lagunitas, a director of the San Geronimo Valley Assn., said none of the 30 members present last night voted against the resolution to oppose recall. "One or two did not vote," she said. Members also agreed that a committee could be formed to handle any funds donated to back the campaign against recall.

Members discussed formation of a survey committee to look into numbering of houses and possible renaming of streets where necessary to avoid confusion in the valley.

Jean Bevans of Forest Knolls was appointed chairman of a clean up and beautification committee.

L. A. Mouton of Forest Knolls was renominated to serve as president for another year. Election of officers will be April 20. Others nominated were:

Vice president, Joseph Furda; and Earl Barnett; recording secretary, Mrs. Vilas; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Louise Wood and Mrs. Earl Frank; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Furdas.

Area directors, Mrs. Maud S. Gardner of Woodacre, Sam Rouder of San Geronimo, Jean Bevans of Forest Knolls, Mrs. Winnifred Frederick of Lagunitas, and directors at large (two to be elected) Earl Barnett, Mrs. Marie Ringer, Grace Zanolini and Al Schivo.

Mariner Cove Planting Bid Is Granted

The Mariner Cove Improvement Assn. was granted its request last night by the Corte Madera Town Council to plant and maintain the north side of Paradise Drive from Seawolf Passage to Golden Hind Passage.

But property owners will have to sign a deed to the city giving access rights to Paradise Drive.

City Atty. Sherrod S. Davis said it was a "hazardous situation" for the city to plant the area without access rights.

Albert J. Boro, president of the improvement association, said he saw no reason why property owners would not deed the access rights to the city.

The council also granted to the association its request for eight signs at intersections warning motorists to drive slowly for children at play.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

1. Approved individual employee meritorious step increases and raised the pay of Police Officer Fred Talmadge from $517 to $543.

2. Heard that the boundaries commission would consider the boundary between Larkspur and Corte Madera at an informal meeting March 31 at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center.

3. Approved a request for a population estimate for June 10 which will cost slightly less an $2000 and repay the city in gasoline tax funds $12 for each new resident found.

4. Repealed all conflicting animal control ordinances, except that prohibiting the keeping of fowl, and adopted the uniform county animal control ordinance.

5. Approved the request of the Christmas Tree Hill Dwellers Assn. for more powerful street lighting, which will cost the city an additional $109 a month.

6. Authorized Mayor Edward W. Colthurst to represent the council at the next meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors, when a representative from the Central Marin area will be chosen for the Human Rights Commission.

7. Indicated that the request of a $1,000 contribution to the Corte Madera Chamber of Commerce would be included in the budget for the next fiscal year.

8. Accepted the resignations of Edwin Fossan and Reginald Chisolm from the parks and recreation commission and put off new appointments to its March 23 meeting.

9. Agreed that requests to attend conferences by Police Chief Frank L. Nelson and Inspector Harold N. Hockett would not be granted for the same time, but that one of the men could attend one meeting.

10. Approved hiring a typist for two hours a day to take the load of Betty Long, secretary for the building, planning and zoning departments.

11. Approved filing a notice of completion of construction of a widened strip on the south side of Tamalpais Avenue, west of Madera Boulevard.

THE CHEVROLET IMPALA ROARS INTO A TURN IN THE SOUTHWEST DESERT TESTING AREA

ALL AROUND THE CLOCK
ALL AROUND THE CALENDAR
ALL AROUND THE COUNTRY
ALL AROUND THE CAR

Just what do we mean "proved all around"? Simply that it takes all kinds of testing to know how every part of a GM car will work and hold up.

Like churning through the shifting sands of desert dunes to test a car's tractability—to find out how it handles and responds. Or speeding, spinning, screeching, squirming, turning, plunging and plowing our cars through one performance challenge after another on our 4,011-acre Proving Ground in Michigan. Around our desert test track near Phoenix. And over the gravel grades above our Pikes Peak test headquarters.

And it takes more testing: up snow-covered country sideroads, down tortuous San Francisco hills in the rain, and through Manhattan's streets in July. Testing GM cars' engines, transmissions, bearings and brakes—morning, noon and night. Testing how they ride, how they handle, how they respond.

In short, it takes testing the GM way: the long way, the hard way, the right way—on the world's truest proving grounds before they go into production. It's because of this that a GM car is so likely to be worth more to you: when you buy it, as you drive it, and when you trade it in.

Ross Trustees Pass Teacher Travel Policy

A policy by which Ross School District will help teachers to travel, study or otherwise improve themselves professionally was approved last night by the district board.

Supt. William W. Monahan said the district will pay a teacher who goes on such a leave a grant consisting of the difference between his or her salary and the salary of the replacement, up to one-half of the regular teacher's full pay.

Since the policy applies only to teachers with seven or more years experience, he said, this could amount to a fairly sizeable grant in some cases.

Leaves will be permitted for one or two semesters, and teachers will be required to submit plans of their travel or study before they go. Not more than one teacher will be allowed to be absent at once, Monahan said, and teachers must remain with the district for two years after they return, or forfeit the grant money.

The board heard a report from the Citizens Committee on for Quality Education in Ross, describing the group's efforts in canvassing the district for the April 14 bond issue and tax increase election. It also indicated its intentions to work out a cooperative program with the town maintenance of the common adjacent to the school. The common is owned by the town but used for school activities.

Highway Service Station Is Approved In Belvedere

Despite strong protests from Cove Road residents last night, the Belvedere Planning Commission recommended that a use permit be granted by the city council to Frederick G. Zelinsky for a service station on Tiburon Highway opposite Cove Road.

The commission conditioned its recommendation on two points: that Zelinsky turn the right of way for the Mar West realignment over to the county promptly, and that egress and ingress to the service station should be from Mar West exclusively as realigned.

Attorney Richard M. Adams, 36 Cove Road, spoke for himself and his neighbors after presenting a petition opposing a service station with 30 signatures.

Adams emphasized safety. He said, "the current intersection of Cove and Lagoon Roads with the Tiburon Highway is hazardous. Adding Mar West will aggravate conditions and a gas station even more."

George V. Banning, chairman, said the land is zoned commercial, a gas station was in the eight-year-old Tiburon master plan, and drainage could be taken care of by a culvert.

However, the commission recommended that the city council discuss closing the entrance to Cove and Lagoon roads at the Tiburon Highway and/or dead-ending Cove Road at that North end.

By city ordinance, all residents within 500 feet of the station should have been sent notices. At least two were not, according to George K. Whitney, Mariner Circle resident. While the commission was examining this technicality, it discovered the commission's secretary should have sent out the notices instead of city mgr. Britton Rey.

House Passes Bill To Allow U.S. Re-Entry

The House of Representatives today passed a bill to allow Mrs. Eleanora Vasconi, who is now in Italy, to re-join her husband in Fairfax, Rep. Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City) reported from Washington.

Mrs. Vasconi was separated from her husband, Italo Vasconi, about 72, in 1960 after she suffered a mental breakdown, the congressman reported. She went to Italy but was not allowed to return to the United States because of a law that prohibits anyone with a history of mental disorder entering this country.

Clausen said the bill was passed without opposition. The bill is identical to the one the late Clem Miller introduced for Mrs. Vasconi in 1962.

The measure still must pass the Senate.

The bill also provides that the husband may be required to post a bond to pay for any medical cost should there be a relapse, the congressman explained. He said medical reports indicate Mrs. Vasconi has recovered completely.

County Planner Service Gets Cold Shoulder

Mill Valley city councilmen are not too keen about the idea of having a county planner provide services to the city.

Councilman George Blackwell said last night "the city is already paying and getting nothing."

If the county provided a planner, the city would have to pay the regular salary plus overhead, noted Councilman George Monardo.

"We ought to make clear our position," said Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks. "Under the proposal, we're not interested in participating in hiring planners from the county."

Monardo has advocated hiring a full-time city planning consultant. The city now hires consultant John D. Erickson on a part-time basis.

Blackwell said the council would be premature in taking a position now because the county's proposal has not yet gone to the Marin County Council of Mayors.

The proposal for a single planning staff to serve the county and its cities was made by the county planning commission.

Girl's Spill In Ditch Worries Councilmen

The Mill Valley City Council last night urged that safety measures be taken at a Sutton Manor ditch where a kindergarten girl nearly drowned March 4.

Laura Davis, 6-year-old daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Thomas H. Davis of 54 Meadow Drive, tumbled into the drainage ditch bordering East Blithedale Avenue near Ashford Avenue. She was rescued by William Tillett, manager of a nearby gasoline service station.

City Engineer Stanley M. Bala said that section of the ditch "is really dangerous," and deeper than 15 feet.

There is a low fence at the property, reported City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer, "but if you start fencing the creek, there's a lot of miles to fence."

Harold Soule said the property is held by a title company, on behalf of Herbert Shapiro.

The council authorized Balmer to take whatever safety measures he can and notify the property owner that he should fence it in, or undertake some other method to remove the hazard.

Marin City Films Will Be Shown

Photographs of Marin City and its environs will be shown at a meeting of the Marin City and Marin County Historical Societies at 2 p.m. June 21 at Marin City.

History of the Marin City area was divided into three parts at last night's meeting of the Marin City organization. The first part concerns the first 100 years since Capt. William A. Richardson received the grant to Rancho Saucelito in 1841. The "building years" when Marin City and Marinship were built is the second division. The "occupation years" since 1942 comprise the third.

Purpose of the meeting in June is to acquaint the people with the history of their hope, said John A. Thomson, secretary.

KENNEDY KIN HONOR HIM IN PRAYERS

DUNGANSTOWN, Ireland (UPI)—In this little windswept hamlet in County Wexford, ancestral home of the late John F. Kennedy, his Irish relatives today remembered their famous cousin in their prayers.

"How could we ever forget him," said Mrs. Mary Ryan, 66, one of Kennedy's closest Irish relatives and keeper of the old homestead, now an international monument.

"On this St. Patrick's Day when we Irish draw together no matter where we are, the name of Jack Kennedy will be on our lips and in our hearts," she said.

Board Votes Pay Increase For Teachers

Kentfield teachers were given salary increases amounting to 9.2 per cent last night by the school district board.

The increase will cost the district an additional $49,161. Teacher's salary ranges will be from $5,300 to $10,070.

The increase voted last night was one per cent higher than that generally agreed to at last week's board meeting.

The approved raises will allow the district to be in a competitive position for hiring and retaining teachers with other districts in the county, according to Supt. Howard C. Harmon.

The board also approved a four per cent increase for classified employees which will amount to an additional expenditure of $3,275.

The board awarded the contract for construction of a corridor at the Adaline E. Kent School to Herrero Brothers of San Rafael at $7,412.

Youths Report Rocket Films Turn Out Well

Two young El Cerrito scientists who launched two rockets from a balloon let up from a boat out of Sausalito Saturday, reported today that films of the experiment came out very well.

Dave Guidici, 21, and Kelly MacDonald, 20, had feared that explosion of the balloon and emergency launching of the two rockets may have jarred the cameras out of kilter. But the film was developed last night and the two youths began examining it today.

"We got some pretty good shots," Guidici said. He explained that it will take several hours of inspection to see what the results of the test were. The youths launched both a vaned and unvaned rocket from the balloon in an attempt to see which performed best at high altitudes.

Sausalito Board Asks Budget Cut

Sausalito school district trustees last night instructed Supt. Marcus F. Davis to cut the 1964-65 budget. It will be reconsidered at the next regular board meeting on March 23.

The budget, as proposed Feb. 17, calls for $82,000 in excess of district income. Trustees were told there is no way to get this added money other than a tax increase. The board, said Davis, does not look favorably upon a tax hike.

Tax rate for 1963-64 was $2.38 per $100 assessed valuation, including 13 cents override tax and four cents for bond retirement. The 1963-64 budget is $670,000.

Hub Planners Kill Rezone Proposal

A hotly contested rezoning petition was effectively killed by a 3-3 vote of the San Anselmo Planning Commission last night, but the applicant, developer Paul Mendelsohn of Greenbrae, said he would appeal the action to the city council.

The petition, submitted by Mendelsohn and Land Planning Inc. of San Anselmo, sought to rezone property at the corner of Tamalpais and Cedar avenues, from single-family dwelling to apartment zoning.

A large group of residents opposing the action attended the meeting, bearing petitions which contained 79 signatures. Planning commission secretary Richard Sypher said 48 of the signers live within 300 feet of the property.

Commissioners Charles R. Leitzell, Warren R. Perry and Jerry W. Lloyd voted against the action. Commissioner James Cowperthwaite was absent.

A similar petition, submitted in August, 1962, was approved by the commission, but the action later was reversed by the city council after a protest from property owners.

In another rezoning action, the commission approved 4-2 the petition of Harold Truett to rezone propertly at 130 Sycamore Avenue from single-family to apartments. Voting against the motion were Commissioners Ronald R. Hill and Lloyd.

The commission approved a use permit for the building design firm of Reinhart and Mohler to carry on its business in a home at 1431 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Windows Broken By B-B Pellets

Martin and Harris Appliances, 1604 Fourth Street, reported a front plate glass window was penetrated in two places by B-B pellets, fired sometime between Saturday and 7:58 p.m. yesterday.

The B-B shot also hit a plate glass window at the Reynolds real estate office at 2020 Fourth Street, sometime Sunday night, police reported.

Police earlier had received two reports of windows broken by B-B shots over the weekend. They believe the shots were fired from a car because of the angle and height of the impact area.

The board also approved expenditure of $1,161.93 for attorney, negotiator and engineering fees submitted in connection with acquiring the site.

A list of books donated to the Redwood High School Library was approved by the board, and a report on a proposed district grading plan was presented by Harold Allison, principal of Sir Francis Drake High School.

Planners Shelve Commercial Zone Proposals For Year

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday decided to shelve most of the major revisions proposed for commercial and industrial zones in Marin County, at least until next year.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs was told, instead, to bring in by May 4 a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance which would do just one job—eliminate residential uses from commercial and industrial zones. Dobbs called this one change the meat of the study.

Dobbs said other revisions, especially provisions dealing with industrial performance standards or setbacks for future road widening, had opened the door to questions about similar provisions in the entire zoning ordinance.

Perhaps the entire ordinance does need major revisions, commented chairman Niels Schultz Jr., but the present staff is not large enough to do the job now. Other work has priority.

Dobbs said that if the board of supervisors grants him most of the staff increase he has requested, the review of the county's planning ordinance might be started next year.

The commission approved building plans for an office building by Frederick G. Zelinsky on the north side of Tiburon's Main Street between Beach Road and Juanita Lane. Zelinsky agreed to changes in the parking arrangement, allowing for a total of 127 cars in the shopping center development.

The Marin County Planning Commission also:

1. Approved plans for an addition to St. Hilary's Rectory, 761 Hilary Drive, Tiburon.
2. Continued to April 6 consideration of plans by Davis Realty for a 13-unit apartment house at 919 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield.
3. Denied an adjustment which would have allowed Keith Kuhl to divide the parcel at 25 Homestead Boulevard, Homestead Valley, into two lots, one of which would not have fronted on a street. Neighbors had asked that an existing house be razed first.
4. Allowed withdrawal by G. C. Kott of a proposed division of land on Ridgewod Avenue, behind 415 Laverne Avenue, Homestead Valley, into three lots.
5. Approved a change in the grading plans of Bel Marin Keys to allow benching the slope in the rear yards down to the water.
6. Recommended zoning Kent Wodlands unit 14 and two lots in unit 15 for 10,000-square foot lot minimum.
7. Set hearing April 6 on a proposed change in the commercial area of the Marinwood master plan.
8. Approved plans for an apartment house in the Merinero area, after hearing that access to an adjoining parcel would no longer be allowed.
9. Agreed to notify the Army Corps of Engineers of any proposals for developments in the Ross Valley area, since the corps is working on plans for a flood control project on Corte Madera Creek.
10. Approved plans for a medical building at 32 Reed Street, Mill Valley, sought by Dr. I. N. Tucker, after plans were revised to meet setback requirements.
11. Continued until April 6 application for a use permit and a zoning adjustment by Leon C. Felton to allow construction of a Volkswagen showroom, office and service facilities at 920 Redwood Highway, Alto.
12. Continued until April 6 application by the Marlin Development Co. for a permit to construct a post office on private property, on the north side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, adjacent to the Kentfield Fire Department.
13. Approved a tentative map of Portola Estates Unit 3, a 10-acre subdivision in Santa Venetia, submitted by James A. Mayer, Inc.

Sausalito To Consider $6,225 Damage Bill

Sausalito city councilmen will be asked to approve $6,225 in damages at its meeting at 8 p.m. today to repair the bank and garden of city building inspector William L. Hynes.

The city about two years ago authorized a contractor to place dirt along the shoulder of the road above Hynes' home at 66 Marion Avenue, the dirt covered up a catch basin, it rained and dirt tumbled down the hill, said City Mgr. Charles A. Brown.

The city council will hear a request to establish the position of parking enforcement officer and, if granted, elimination of one police officer position. Also on the agenda is the proposed extension of the parking meter zone northward on Bridgeway from the Old Ernie's Waterfront Cafe toward Caledonia Street. A planning commission report on the waterfront study will be heard.

Knob Hill Road Water 'Inadequate'

A Point Reyes Station housewife told the Marin County Planning Commission that the water supply in the Knob Hill Road area is inadequate.

The water is dirty most of the time, said Mrs. Joseph Horick of Knob Hill Road.

As evidence she carried a water sample and a sheet and a towel that had been laundered in the water, but commissioners did not examine her exhibits.

"If you turn on one faucet, the others go off," she said. "It takes 30 minutes to fill an automatic washer."

Residents served by the Point Reyes Station Water Co. have frequently been without water for several hours, Mrs. Horick said.

"They had to release school last week because there was no water," she said.

Mrs. Horick's comments came as commissioners considered a tentative map of the 2.5-acre Knob Hill subdivision, planned by the Robin Hood Land Co. on five parcels, north of Point Reyes Station. The proposed subdivision is at Viento Way and Knob Hill Road.

Commissioners said they had no jurisdiction over water service. They approved the subdivision map with the condition that there be a supply of potable water, meeting county health department and public utility commission standards.

They also required the subdivider to widen Knob Hill Road and Viento Way along subdivision frontage and meet the waste disposal standards in two parcels which reportedly are subject to inundation.

Gratifying Comments Heard About I-J's New, Expanded Stocks List

FAVORABLE RESPONSE to that recently expanded list of Independent-Journal stocks has been heartening. We've had some calls from a few whose favorites are still not included but the list was not intended to be a complete one.

Marin County security brokers report gratifying comments heard in and around their offices.

"Lots of people have spoken about it," says Harry Caldwell, who opened Caldwell Investment Co. in Novato just a year ago this month. "I can't wait to get my paper to read it and others must react the same way."

Caldwell, who has closed his Santa Rosa office recently, says he may open other offices in San Mateo and Richmond.

Charles J. Francis, who with Theodore A. Murray took over the Beckman and Co. Mill Valley office last September, added another in Novato and changed the name to Francis and Murray, said it was one of the most serviceable things the I-J had done in a long time.

"Just before it came out I was talking to some of our customers who were moaning and groaning about the limited stock listings, and I was going to write you a letter about it. The very next day you saved me the trouble. It will help our business."

Murray at the Novato office said it shows the county is growing and becoming more progressive. "But I'd like to see you report the 10 most active stocks of the day," he commented, "and a longer list of over-the-counter quotations."

WILLIAM K. KETELL
Made Long Beach manager

Both Francis and Murray feel also there is a growing interest in the securities of insurance companies. They expect to open another office in the East Bay soon. Comparatively new at the Mill Valley office is Karl Falconer, formerly of Harris Upham and Co. in the East Bay. He lives in Mill Valley.

From Irving Lundborg and Co., San Rafael, Earll T. Riley declared: "Probably a lot of people will read the I-J who never read it before--and it's bound to help our business. Congratulations."

New at this office since January is Thomas Zeigler of Sleepy Hollow, replacing David B. MacAusland who has transferred his activities to San Francisco. Zeigler has been registered for two years and has spent the last year in the trading department of the San Francisco office.

Jess J. France Jr., San Rafael resident partner in York and Co., felt it was a good move in financial reporting. "I was also pleased to see the type is more readable than in some lists," he said, "and as for the number of stocks—500 is just about right. Mentioning the most actively traded stocks would help."

(A report on 15 of the most active stocks is available, but it would be received too late for us to publish the same day.)

FORMER MARINITE William K. Ketell, son of Mrs. J. Paul Messinger of San Rafael, has been promoted to manager of Mutual of New York's life and health insurance agency in Long Beach. He joined MONY in 1955, was named assistant agency manager in Honolulu in 1961 and was assigned to the home office for managerial training last June.

NOW ASSOCIATED with insurance broker Edward Wachsman who will put up a new building on Mission Avenue opposite Court Street, San Rafael is Jack Nixon, a management counselor formerly from New York. The firm will be called Wachsman-Nixon Co.

Medical Supply Firm Purchased

PALO ALTO (UPI) — Hewlett-Packard Co. announced today it is purchasing Mechrolab Inc. for an undisclosed amount of cash.

Mechrolab, a manufacturer of medical and scientific instruments, had sales of about one million dollars last year. Founded in 1959, it is located at Mountain View.

Lockheed Reports Its Net Earnings

BURBANK — Lockheed Aircraft Corp. reported net earnings for 1963 of $43,254,000, up 16 per cent from the previous record of $37,199,000 established in 1962.

Sales for the year ended Dec. 29 increased 10 per cent to $1,930,488,000 from the previous high of $1,753,074,000 set in 1962.

Net earnings per share for 1963 amounted to $4.06, compared with $3.57 adjusted for the four-for-three stock split last year.

Share Dividend

BERKELEYW — The board of directors of Hexcel Products, Inc., today announced a 10 percent per share dividend for the first quarter of 1964 and a special additional payment of 5 cents per share. The quarterly and special dividends are payable on March 30 to shareholders of record March 26.

Mustang Ford Assembly Set For Milpitas

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Ford Motor Co., which put its new Mustang into production this week, will assemble the sports car at its Milpitas plant as well as at the main Dearborn, Mich., plant.

Lee A. Iacocca, vice president and general manager of the firm's Ford Division, said that assembly at Milpitas would begin about mid-April.

"It already is obvious from initial reaction to the car that we will not have enough capacity at the Dearborn plant to satisfy the demand," said Iacocca.

He called California a "logical" place to assemble the car "because we think it will have particular appeal to west coast car buyers who seem traditionally to set the pace for the nation's tastes."

Iacocca also announced that Ford would build a big auto parts depot in Galvin Industrial Park at Richmond.

Aluminum Firm Profits Lower

OAKLAND (AP) — Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp. today reported lower net profit and lower dollar sales volume for 1963 despite record production and shipments.

Earnings were $23,359,000 compared with $31,151,000 in 1962 and sales $437,072,000 compared with $444,165,000 the previous year.

The company blamed "unrealistically low prices." President T. J. Ready Jr. noted the recent reversal of the aluminum price decline and looked "for a continuation of this trend toward restoration of realistic prices" with "increased sales and profits for Kaiser Aluminum" in 1964.

Kaiser Increases Bare Foil Prices

OAKLAND — Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Sales, Inc., said that it was increasing bare foil prices 1 cent per pound.

At the same time the company announced that it was increasing prices of laminated foil insulation stock effective the same date.

The new laminated foil insulation stock prices reflect increases ranging from 49 cents to 59 cents per 1,000 square feet and restore the prices to the level that existed prior to a decrease one year ago.

Radioactive Iodine Is Found In Milk

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) disclosed yesterday that small amounts of radioactive iodine have shown up in locally produced milk as a result of a low-yield atomic test on the Nevada desert last Friday.

At the same time, the AEC emphasized that the amounts of radioactive iodine found in the milk were "far below the level that would be a hazard to the health of those drinking the milk."

Poverty Program Would Aid 100,000 Teen-Agers

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The first move to alleviate poverty under the administration's plan is to train those teen-agers who are least likely to fit into today's or tomorrow's economy. The program would aid 100,000 of them.

But there are millions of others of all ages who come under the administration's rule of thumb—a family with less than $3,000 a year income is poor. And drives to better their condition, and incomes, will be harder.

The 962.5 million dollars President Lyndon B. Johnson is asking of Congress to start his program is admittedly only a beginning. How much of a dent it will make is unknown. And how big the program could grow in future years is also unknown .

The causes of poverty are many. Sometimes it's sudden like the loss of a job because a lifetime of practicing a once-wanted skill is outmoded. Sometimes it's a change in direction of government spending—a number of communities where defense contracts have been canceled know about that, and others fear it may be around the corner. Often it's lack of schooling that would fit the person to learn skills now in vogue in the labor market.

But the nation's poor contain many other classifications.

Farming techniques have advanced to the point that more than a million marginal farmers have been left behind. They have cash incomes of less than $3,000 a year, often much less. In many cases they are concentrated in depressed regions, but some are found even in the prosperous areas where farms are larger and mechanized.

More than a million nonfarm, nonwhite families headed by men under 65 are poor by the $3,000-a-year standard. Much of the blame is charged to poor schooling, or hiring discrimination.

Even more families headed by women under 65 are in the poverty classification. The heads are widows, divorcees, deserted or unwed mothers. They must provide for their children while often handicapped by lack of skills or experience. And some of these also charge discrimination in hiring.

More than two million Americans over 65 classify as poor under the rule of thumb. A third have only Social Security and other pension income. For many who do have some savings, these are small because their best earning years were during the depression, or in the early postwar years when pay was smaller than today.

The president's program, while concentrating on the teen-agers, urges expansion of existing programs aimed at helping others and federal aid to local programs, and loans and grants to some farmers, workers long out of work, and small businesses. This would continue and expand long-time drives on the problem of poverty.

The nation has made considerable strides since 1929. Then half of its families had incomes under $3,000 a year. By 1947 this had dropped to 30 per cent, and today is put at 20 per cent. The big gain in those years was made by families in the middle-income brackets.

All such figures are clouded to some extent by the inflation that makes a $3,000 a year income buy much less today than in 1929. They also are complicated by rising standards of living which include many conveniences and services now considered necessities that were unheard of in those days.

SEATTLE (UPI)—The Boeing Co. today announced the award of a $200,000 contract to American Electronics, Inc., Fullerton, Calif., in connection with the Minuteman missile program.

Late Advance Brings Gains In Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed moderately higher on a late advance today. Trading was active.

The gain was led by airlines, rails and chemicals.

Airlines suddenly became active on reports that industry, which usually loses money in the first quarter of the year, is expected to show a profit.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.2 million shares compared with 5.16 million yesterday .

The rails were stronger as the threat of a strike appeared to wane. New York Central advanced half a point and Pennsylvania Railroad was ahead by a lesser fraction.

Philip Morris gained a point to lead the tobaccos in the wake of published reports that cigarette sales are coming back after dropping on the surgeon general's report that cigaretts smoking is injurious to health.

Lehigh Valley Industries appeared headed for the top of the list of the day's most active stocks.

Cert-Teed and Chris Craft were active and up about a point.

Among big block traded were 30,300 shares of Aluminium Limited, off about half a point, and 15,800 shares of Murray Corp., up half a point.

Westinghouse was strong and up more than a point.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in quiet trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed with rails lower. Most U.S. government bonds were unchanged in light dealings.

Trans World Airline Revenues Increase

NEW YORK — Trans World Airlines revenues of 73.6 million dollars in the first two months of 1964 improved more than 19 per cent over the same period last year, president Charles C. Tillinghast Jr. reported to the Society of Security Analysts here.

While maintaining the financial page which produced a 20-million-dollar net profit last year, Tillinghast said January and February performances confirm projections of a record revenue 1964 of about 530 million dollars.

You are invited by Francis & Murray, Inc., to enjoy in your investment relationships the personal interest and attention that is characteristic of Marin's first home-owned and managed securities firm. We are proud to offer superior investment guidance, assistance and execution of orders, plus several added advantages which may well increase your convenience and satisfaction.

Our registered representatives, officers and staff provide experience covering many years in financial fields. Convenient offices are located in Mill Valley and Novato, with a new location being planned. Services available include prompt execution of buy and sell orders in listed and over-the-counter stocks, bonds and mutual funds. Your registered representative and records of your transactions are locally available when needed by you or your accountant. Special mailings are made to keep customers informed on matters affecting their interests or holdings and on general investment conditions. Recommendations for changes in portfolios, however, are quite infrequent.

Francis & Murray, Inc., has much to offer you, whether you own a major investment portfolio or are considering your first securities purchase. We invite you to telephone either office for a convenient appointment, day or evening.

At your request, by letter or telephone, we will send you a form on which to list your securities for analysis and comment on current suitability. There is no charge, of course.

Francis & Murray, Inc., is going to grow. We would be happy to have you grow with us. You will appreciate our ability to remain small enough to know you, large enough to serve you.

Cordially yours

A TRIBUTE TO
ST. PATRICK

The Friendly Sons of St. Patrick was organized in Philadelphia during Colonial Days. His feast has been celebrated ever since by those who can claim Irish ancestry, of whom there are more in the United States than in Ireland, and the rest who just have a twinkle in their eye.

St. Patrick was born in Britain to a Christian family of Roman citizenship about 387 A.D. Captured at 16 and taken to Ireland as a slave, he eventually escaped, to return as a missionary headquartered at Tara. He founded 300 churches and baptized more than 120,000 people. One legend says he charmed the snakes out of Ireland into the sea.

In any case, charm he unquestionably had, and charm is his legacy lifting our spirits today.

Wilt's Temper Is Costly In Warriors' Drive For Flag

Wilt Chamberlain's temper could prove costly to the San Francisco Warriors.

A technical foul on the Big Dipper gave Philadelphia's Hal Greer the opportunity to sink a free throw with one second left, giving the 76ers a 111-110 victory over the Warriors last night at the Cow Palace.

That touched off loud boos and nearly sent Referee Richie Powers into a fight with an irate fan.

Chamberlain had bounced the ball down in what most of the crowd thought was anger over hitting only one of two free throw attempts in the waning seconds as he knotted the score at 110-110. It turned out Wilt was angry because a teammate called time out when the club had used up all six allowable time outs.

The Philadelphia victory kept alive the St. Louis Hawk's slim hope of wining the Western Division title in the National Basketball Assn.

Trailing by 1½ games, St. Louis plays host to Detroit tonight while the 76ers play at Los Angeles and New York goes to Boston to face the Celtics, who already have won the Eastern Division crown.

San Francisco's magic number remains 1. If the Warriors win their finale against Philadelphia tomorrow night, or if St. Louis loses either of its two remaining games, the Warriors become division champs for the first time since 1956 when they still called Philadelphia home.

That would mean $10,000 split among the players. But if they finish second, they could get just $7,500 and that by beating third-place Los Angeles in a playoff.

If San Francisco loses its finale and St. Louis wins two, the clubs would tie for the division seat and meet in a one-game playoff to decide the champs.

Only a weird ending to a great final quarter rally by the 76ers kept San Francisco from clinching the crown last night. The Warriors led by 15 points early in the period.

Greer, Chet Walker and Paul Neumann began chipping away after San Francisco had built a 91-81 lead. They chopped it down to 108-107.

Then Guy Rodgers dropped a free throw, putting the Warriors out front by two again.

With 18 seconds left, Al Attles fouled Greer, who calmly notched his 33rd point of the night.

San Francisco controlled the ball and reserve guard Gary Hill entered the game with the San Francisco strategy. Moments later, Powers called an offensive foul on Hill and Philadelphia gained control of the ball.

Chamberlain fouled John Kerr, giving him three free throw attempts to make two. He sank the first, missed the second, made the third. Philadelphia led 110-109.

Kerr returned the favor by fouling Chamberlain, who received two chances. He missed one. The clock showed 1 second when the whistle blew.

Referee Powers said later both Rodgers and another Warrior had called time out. Redgers said later he had only hollered, "Take your time," to his teammates.

Chamberlain hurled the ball down. It bounced nearly 40 feet into the air negating Wilt's 30 points and career high of 14 assists as Powers called an automatic technical foul.

The referee termed the infraction unsportsmanlike conduct, and Greer sank the free throw.

Strangely, the referee did not charge the Warriors with calling an extra time out.

Powers said that has he left the floor, a fan rushed up to him hurling abuse.

"I swung at him a couple of times, missed but he backed off and that was all there was to it," the referee explained.

Scanlon Is No 'Lucky Irishman'

The game San Francisco boxer last night found his comeback hopes again blocked by Paulie Armstead of Compton who took his second decision over Irish Bobby in a 10-round non-title go here.

Scanlon fought at his lightest weight in two years, 138¼, and sought to avenge a split decision by Armstead in Sacramento last June.

But Armstead, 138, the No. 3 ranked lightweight in the world, was the clear victor in the hard-fought Kezar Pavilion battle before 1,500 fans.

There were no knockdowns and Scanlon pressed the action, but Armstead landed solidly throughout. Judge Jack Silver called it 9-0, referee Jack Downey had it 9-1, and Judge Abe Cohen saw it 6-3, all for Armstead.

Both men emerged with remarkably similar records. Armstead, who is state lightweight champion, is 40-11-1. Scanlon, ranked among the first 10 junior welterweights, is 40-10-1.

683 Series Headlines ABC Action

OAKLAND (AP) — Norm Belt and Erwin Buckspan of Los Angeles put a fire under the lagging classic division in the American Bowling Congress Tournament yesterday when they took first place in the doubles with a 1,246 series.

Belt and Buckspan, both 40 and co-owners of a bowling center, displaced Ed Riggs and John Rebol of San Jose, who had dominated the division since last Wednesday with 1,242.

Belt's 204-269-210—683 contribution to the effort was the best classic division performance in several days. The classic division, which is reserved for professionals, has been outshone by high-scoring bowlers in the regular or amateur class since the tournament opened 24 days ago.

Belt also took fourth place in classic all-events with a nine game total of 1,865.

His team, Hercules Refuse Container of Los Angeles, totaled merely 5,681 for six games but it was enough to take second place among the five professional class teams which have competed thus far.

Airport Bowl of North Hollywood has a tenuous lead in the classic team event on the basis of its 5,681 aggregate.

ANOTHER HURDLE AHEAD

Hornung Tries For Old Job

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Paul Hornung, the "Golden Boy" of pro football, cleared one hurdle today but faces another — earning a place in the Green Bay Packer starting lineup.

Hornung and Detroit all-star tackle Alex Karras returned to the good graces of the National Football League yesterday when Commissioner Pete Rozelle lifted their one-year suspension for betting.

A three-time NFL scoring champion, Hornung will battle Tom Moore for the job he once held so securely.

And if Hornung thinks this is easy, he should recall the story of Wally Pipp. The New York Yankee first baseman took a day off back in 1925 and never returned to the starting lineup. A youngster named Lou Gehrig took over that day and the rest is history.

Moore was the eighth leading ground gainer in the NFL last season with 658 yards and a 5.0 yard average per carry. He scored six touchdowns.

Hornung and Karras were banned from the NFL last April 17 "indefinitely" for placing bets ranging from $50 to $500 mostly on their own teams to win.

They missed the entire 1963 season and their absences sent the Packers and Lions reeling to unaccustomed lower positions in the standings.

Rozelle conferred privately with ex-Notre Damer Hornung on March 7 and talked to the 240-pound Karras, a former Iowa star, on March 14.

The commissioner said the players have a "clearer understanding of the seriousness" of their folly and that missing last season's schedule was punishment enough for Hornung and Karras.

Following Rozelle's announcement, Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi and Detroit Mentor George Wilson immediately denied any intention of trading the NFL's reformed "bad boys."

"I'm happy to have Hornung back," Lombardi said. "But I don't know what condition he's in. That will have to wait until I'm able to talk to him."

But Hornung, who led the Packers to two straight NFL championships, will have to earn a place in the Packer lineup, Lombardi said.

Wilson called Karras' reinstatement a "big lift to the morale of the team — we've waited a year for this."

Detroit owner William Clay Ford said this "may well be a key factor in our plans for winning the championship in 1964."

Karras said he was ready to start as a rookie all over again. "I did everything possible to help myself win reinstatement," the all-pro defensive tackle said. "I'm going to put my money in stocks and concentrate on football."

Karras said he had sold his interest in a bar to meet NFL requirements and promised to adhere to the league's high standards of conduct.

Will Pierce Come Back For Giants?

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—In chess parlance it might be called "Reverse pitcher's gambit refused."

At the spring training camp of the San Francisco Giants, the strategem is called, "Can Billy Pierce succeed in his comeback after all this trouble?"

To many it may seem that Pierce was never away—thus not coming back from anywhere.

But his paper departure was the heart of the Giants' gambit—which now can succeed if Pierce can pitch effectively.

After his 16-6 record in the pennant-winning year of 1962, Pierce sagged to a 3-11 mark and 4.27 earned run average in 1963.

With tongue in cheek, the Giants waived him.

But the other 19 major league clubs refused the gambit—they didn't pick up Pierce for $20,000. That was just what the Giants wanted.

It gave them room on the 40-man roster for an extra youngster but left Pierce free to come to spring training.

He still hasn't signed a contract, isn't on the roster and didn't even rate a mention in the Giants' spring press book—but such details will quickly be remedied if he can pitch back to his 1962 form.

"I reckon that Billy worked too hard last spring and in the early weeks of the regular season and simply ran out of gas," said Manager Alvin Dark.

"This spring I told him to get himself into shape the best way he knows how. I plan on using Bill quite a bit, particularly in Candlestick, where the wind favors his particular style, and I want him ready at the bell."

All of which sounds like the gambit already has succeeded.

It was a profitable day for Ron Harbel, however. The young pitcher was fitted for glasses and observed. "What a relief. I didn't realize what I was missing across the lobby." Such are the spring sights in sunny Arizona.

Costellos Win Net Tourney

The John W. Costellos defeated the John J. Wileys in the finals of the Leap Year Doubles at Belvedere Tennis Club on Sunday. The scores were 3-6, 6-1, and 8-6.

All finalists were presented with silver trays after the matches by David W. Allen, president of the club.

Marin Swimmers Prep For Big County Meet

Marin Pirate swimmers have been busy prepping for the upcoming Marin Swimming Championships scheduled for April 18 and 19 at the Bon Air pool and sponsored jointly by the club, Schultz Enterprises of Greenbrae and the Independent-Journal.

Team members have participated in nine Amateur Athletic Union meets this year, including three senior meets and the first of the new Class "A" meets, a 1964 innovation by the Pacific Assn. of the AAU.

Two dozen place awards have been garnered by the team, led by first-place winners Roberta Shistar (a double winner), Candy Beeler, Candee Carlisle, Mike London and Gary Trowbridge. Other award winners were Darleen Bordner, Deirdre Bullis, Susan Carlisle, Teresa Carlisle, Joanne Hill and Donna Politi.

Under new head coach Art Octavio, the team trains daily except Sunday at the Drake High School pool. Interested swimmers are urged to contact the Marin Pirates through the Drake High recreation director, Bob Fitzhenry, or the club membership chairman, Mrs. Richard Beeler of Greenbrae.

S.A. Merchants Win Game, 5-3

The San Anselmo Merchants downed the Oakland Oaks 5-3 Sunday at Memorial Park in San Anselmo, with hurler Steve Miller earning the victory after going all the way on the mound with a six-hitter.

Batting star of the game was Vince Pallavacini with a homer and two singles in four at bats, accounting for three runs batted in. Miller struck out six batters.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

When it comes to convertibles, Dodge has 'em . . . in spades. These are just two of them.

The differences? Dart, the Dodge on top, is a compact. And if you think it doesn't look compact, here are a few other surprises: It doesn't sit, ride or take off like most compacts! Dart's the large economy size compact. Roomy. Powerful. Nifty. Yet thrifty.

How about the Polara, below it? Yeah, how about that. Full vinyl upholstery. A snap down center armrest in front. A selection of power plants few cars at the price can come close to. Price? That's the kicker! This full-size Dodge is priced model for model with Ford and Chevy.

This youngster had better luck with his bubble gum than with the baseball. Eleven-year-old Craig Canon missed the ball, striking out during a Little League warm-up session yesterday in Silver Spring, Md. 225 Coaches Attend Redwood Grid Clinic

Those were the mentors attending the 10th annual Redwood Football Clinic held Saturday at Redwood High School in Larkspur. Clinic chairman is Bob Troppman, head grid coach at Redwood.

Vince Tringali, coach for the St. Ignatius gridders from San Francisco—champs of the Academic Athletic Assn.—was honored as the "coaches' coach of the year" by Al Moss, prep sports writer for the San Francisco Chronicle. Voting for the award were football coaches from Northern California.

Classification awards for the top grid teams from Northern Cal were presented by Bob Sprenger, prep sports writer for the San Francisco Examiner. Award winners were:

St. Ignatius in Class AA (more than 2,000 enrollment); Mountain View and College Park in Class A (1,500 to 2,000); Piedmont and Carmel in Class B (1,000 to 1,500); St. Vincent's of Vallejo in Class C (800 to 1,000), and Weed in Class D (500 to 800).

One of the highlights of the clinic was a live demonstration of offensive and defensive play, with the seniors off St. Ignatius' team the demonstrators. Tringali used his chargers to demonstrate offensive play and John Giannoni, coach at Lodi High School, used them to demonstrate defensive line play.

Among the top college and university coaches at the clinic were John Ralston and his staff from Stanford; Marv Goux, line coach at USC ; Bud Van Daren, line coach at the University of California, and Dick Read from College of Marin.

The University of Kentucky has two of the tallest guards in college basketball in 6-6 sophomore Tom Kron and 6-5 senior Charles Ishmael.

The FISHIN' FOOL

Bass Fishing In San Pablo Bay Seems To Be On The Upswing

STEVENS

A fairly clement weekend and the fisher folk fare forth in search of fun, sport and amusement. The salmon searchers could hardly be called highly successful, but according to what I could glean from personal contact with several resorts and harbors, combined with the news over my Halicrafter, at least the weekend search was an improvement over what had been the record. Sid McMullin of Caruso's place at Sausalito was optimistic over the outlook. Told me most of the action was around Duxbury, "Perhaps not better than a fish a rod, but that's better than it has been for some time," he reported and then added: "At least one troller went home in high spirits, Joe Lehman of Fireball, Calif., hung, played and landed a Schenley — an even 35 pound beauty."

BUT, WHILE salmon trolling is not exactly fast, bass fishing in the San Pablo Bay most certainly has been for the past three days. Alice Quan of China Camp gleefully reported a very productive weekend. "Forty boats out and most of them unloaded limits or near limits. Everybody happy. Fastest action on Shell Banks near Coregidor, the Pump House and the pilings. Top fish went 18 pounds and oodles of 6 to 10 pounders."

Joe Nerviani of Joe's launching at Santa Venetia also was happy over the results out of his place. "About 150 nice stripers on Saturday, with the largest ones taken as before, on bullheads. I, personally hit the jackpot with Jimmy Ventura—used bullheads near the Pump House and brought in a limit from 14 to 18 pounds. Fishing got hot from Friday on. Not all limits taken, but only a few got skunked. Most of the fish were taken on sardines. Prospects look mighty good from where I sit!"

Joe started to hang up and then added: "Ed Mythaler limited Saturday on bullheads—from 12 to 18 pounds; Louie Salvira limited to 10 pounds on sardines, and Lee Nenmann and Joe Arana took bags from 14 to 24 pounds on bullheads."

LOWELL BIAGI of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor reported fair to good bass fishing, lts of flounders and three nice sturgen. Dwight Reed and Jim Labelir brought in two, one of 56 pounds and one weighing 58 pounds. And, John Gamba of Vallejo fished from the pier and won out over a monster measuring six feet, six inches in length and weighing 130 pounds.

I talked with Frank Joseph of Joseph's Rodeo resort. Frank reported a 30 per cent catch for 40 skiffs out of his place. "The percentage would have been much higher," he said, "If so many anglers hadn't quit too soon. No question but what there are plenty of bass around Prospects look very, very good."

JOSEPH ALSO reported that catfishing in Franks Tract is super at present, but bass fishing on the poor side. I asked what baits were being most successful for the bass in the San Pablo. Was told many of the old timers are using the forward half of a whole sardine or bullhead for the bigger fish.

So that's the lowdown as of this writing. Nice weather, nice prospects and here's a big wish that you get in a trip or two pronto. Chow!

Rod, Gun Club Adopts Conservation Matters

Two important conservation measures were recently adopted by the Marin Rod and Gun Club in keeping with the club's participation in programs which encourage preservation of fish, game and natural resources.

One measure was the adoption of a resolution favoring the Bureau of Reclamation's Sacramento River tributary dam system and opposing the alternative Iron Canyon project.

After lengthy research on the subject, the club felt that no evidence has been presented to show that the Iron Canyon project would not damage the anadromous fish runs of the Sacramento River.

The club found much evidence that indicated the tributary dam system would aid fish runs, provide flood control, contribute to the over-all water supply and enhance recreational values.

The second measure is an official communication by the Marin Rod and Gun Club to the California Wildlife Conservation Board commending it on its proposed approval of an application by Marin County for a project which will provide coastal access to fishing at Agate Beach, at Bolinas Mesa.

MARIN ROD-GUN CLUB NOTES

Write-In Campaign Urged For Save-The-Bay Program

By STEVE LATO

MARIN ROD and Gun Club Notebook:

Last month's meeting witnessed some discussion regarding the most feasible means of implementing the "Save the Bay" program. According to the consensus of opinion, members writing individually to their state legislators would be far more effective than a single communication from the club. Members are therefore urged to send their letters at the earliest opportunity.

NEWS BRIEFS: The following new members were welcomed into the club last month: Dan Lebakos, Granville Heaney, John Affanso, Caesar Orsini, Don Jennett and Gordon Balzan . . . Fisherman of the Month honors go to Glenn van Damm for his 7½ pound striper taken at the pier in February . . . Lucky winners of last month's attendance awards were Bill Williams, J. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Orlando Conti . . . "Passage to Bermuda" is the colorful film scheduled for showing at Friday's meeting. This is a unique travelog on the enchanting island of Bermuda, enlivened by the amusing comments of narrator Jonathan Winters. Don't miss it. It has a delightful musical score, too . . . The Jim Bond Show, given last month under the club's sponsorship, was again a huge success. Sportsmen are always intrigued with Jim's fabulous presentations . . . Efforts are being redoubled to improve the programs for this year's meetings in order to attract greater attendance . . . Have you attached your California Wildlife Federation decal to your car? By so doing, you'll be showing your interest in conservation . . . A friendly reminder: Membership dues are now due and payable. If you have overlooked this important detail, there is still time to send in your remittance.

COMMITTEE NOTES: Conservation chairman Al Ferrari submitted to the board a detailed report on the recent meeting of his committee. Much was accomplished at that session.

Barney DeBisschop, delegate to the Aquatic Resources Committee, is preparing a report on the March 4 meeting of ARC. Also on this subject, our board of directors at their March 3 meeting adopted the ARC resolution regarding salmon spawning sanctuaries in the Sacramento, Smith and Mattole River watersheds.

Special events chairman Walt Ericson is planning a meeting of his committee to discuss methods of ensuring larger attendance at these events.

Family dinners chairman Ray Augusto exhorts all and sundry not to miss Saturday's affair. Corned beef and cabbage in honor of St. Patrick's Day!

Leo Ciucci, chairman of the maintenance committee has been granted authority to purchase a dishwasher for the club's new kitchen. Good news for the K.P. crew!

Master planning committee chairman Milburn Zell held this year's first meeting Feb. 17. Chief recommendation concerns sprucing up the grounds adjacent to the clubhouse . . . The advisory committee held its first meeting of the year on Feb. 13 . . .

Judge Leonard Thomas has been asked to speak at the San Rafael Improvement Club as a representative of MRGC. His subject will be the "Save the Bay" program and its problems.

Boating chairman Ken Watts and his committee are considering the possibility of a boat and water ski carnival at the club grounds in September, open to the general public.

George Finney, chairman of the MRGC junior rifle team, presented the club with two fine trophies won by his team during the recent shoot . . .

Membership committee chairman Monty Marzetta sends a reminder that membership cards are not valid unless signed by the member.

President Bob Fagg requests all committee chairmen to furnish the secretary copies of all correspondence which they may initiate.

Planners Pass College Site But Want Street Changed

The Marin County Planning Commission yesterday approved the proposed Pacheco Ranch site for the Novato campus of the College of Marin, but added some reservations about road development.

The commissioners, following the recommendation of Planning Director B. D. Dobbs, said they would object to an extension of San Jose Boulevard which would cut the campus in half. They approved a proposal by Principal Planner Rowland Darnell that the road, when built, curve sharply to the north of two hills to mark the campus entrance.

Darnell said this alignment would cut a corner off the baseball diamond of a nearby junior high school and slice a parcel of private property in half, but would be better for college development.

Dobbs said the college should be responsible for paving and widening half of San Jose Boulevard.

Chairman Niels Schultz Jr. commented that the taxing area of the junior college district and the county were about the same, and that the requirement on the school would not be too difficult.

Darnell said the planners have no control over the matter technically, since the college district can override objections or recommendations of the county commission.

San Anselman Member Of Westminster Choir

Andy Cockburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ranald Cockburn of 35 Carolina Avenue, San Anselmo, is a member of the Westminster College Concert Choir from Salt Lake City, which will present two concerts in Sausalito April 5.

The 41-voice choir will present concerts at the First Presbyterian Church, 111 Bulkley Street, at 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. Cockburn is a sophomore at the college.

Youth Work Program Expansion Is Urged

Mill Valley's Summer Youth Work Program, started last year, should be expanded.

This was the recommendation to the Mill Valley City Council last night by the subcommittee on summer work program of the mayor's Youth Activities Committee.

Under the proposal there would be 50 boys working on city projects compared to 28 last year.

The 10-week program from June 22 through Aug. 28 would cost $3,250, reported Richard Parino, sub-committee chairman.

Boys from 14 to 18 years old would clean litter from parks, repair and develop Cascade and the Three Wells area, rejuvenate Old Mill Park in preparation for the art festival, undertake repairs, painting, pruning and planting at Boyle Park, and start rejuvenation of Sycamore Park.

Councilmen commended last year's program but said expansion depends upon the city budget.

Commenting on the costs, Parino told the Independent-Journal later, "It costs $3,750 a year to maintain a boy in a correctional institution, and $10,500 to construct one unit in an institution."

Disease Study

Dr. Edward P. Mumford, chairman of the biology department at Dominican College, has received a renewal grant of $8,500 from the federal government to continue his research of parasitic diseases in the Near and Middle East.

His study of 128 diseases prevalent in those countries is being done through the Palo Alto Medical Research Foundation with aid from consultants in Egypt, Lebanon, Kuwait, Trucial Skeikdoms, Yemen and others. The second grant will allow Dr. Mumford to expand his current study of eight countries to sixteen.

Neighborhood Group Hears Police Problems

Need for communication between the public and agencies dealing with juvenile delinquents was stressed Saturday in a talk by Lt. William Walsh of the Mill Valley Police Department, who addressed the Alta Vista Neighborhood Group at the home of Bertil Caneman, 74 Alta Vista Avenue, Mill Valley.

Encouraging such meetings, Lieutenant Walsh told the group his department would be happy to provide speakers for them. He also stressed the need for a larger police force to deal with juvenile problems, according to Mrs. Caneman.

Rubella is a measles virus known to be an important cause of birth deformities if the mother contracts the disease during the first two months of pregnancy, the report said.

Results of a study of 600 pregnant women were reported in the current issue of Journal of the American College of Obstreticians and Gynecologists.

"It was determined that the persons without antibody were susceptible to experimental rubella, while those who had antibody showed a resistance," the report said.

Would-Be Nurses Can Be Harmful

Mail-order schools of practical nursing are still turning out would-be nurses who can do more harm than good, according to a survey by "Medical Tribune," a physician's newspaper.

Lacking clinical experience, graduates of correspondence nursing schools are not licensed and cannot qualify for license examination, the survey showed.

Gabrielle Chanel Remains A Power At Age Of Eighty

PARIS (UPI)—It was half a century ago that a pretty French girl began creating revolutionary designs for women's clothes—designs destined to influence the whole feminine fashion world and make the designer one of the world's most copied.

The designer made the sweater an item of high style; she created the cardigan suit jacket which has become an international classic; she started the fad for costume jewelry.

GABRIELLE CHANEL is her name.

And today, at 80, La Chanel remains a power in fashion. The experts—buyers and press—generally praised her spring 1964 collection with its new variations of her classics.

Mlle. Chanel was born in southern France.

Her mother died when she was 6 and her father abandoned her.

In 1910, Gabrielle went to Paris to design clothes. An ardent horsewoman, she promptly copied for women the pullover sweaters worn by her male riding friends. Later, she added cashmere skirts and dresses, introducing the concept of "sportswear" about 1910.

IN 1913 Chanel was the first prominent woman to cut her hair short and wear small cloche hats, starting another revolution in the female silhouette that resulted in short skirts.

A friend recalls that the designer "wore short hair and bangs, with a bow on top, to the opera and caused a sensation."

Chanel never wore a corset and made supple clothes to follow the movement of the body—a revolution in the 20s.

In 1925, she was the first designer to invent a perfume. She called it simply "No. 5." At that time she also developed long-waisted dresses and her famous loose cardigan jacket, copied after the Englishman's blazer—still the mainstay of her 1964 spring collection.

She was surrounded by celebrities and was a close friend then of composer Igor Stravinsky. Artist Pablo Picasso and writer-artist Jean Cocteau. She financed the Ballet Russe in Paris.

But in 1939 Chanel closed her cold, mirrored salon, explaining she could not make clothes during the war. In 1954 she reopened with her same designs. She refused to bow to Dior's "new look" of 1947, complaining it hid the body.

"NOBODY UNDERSTOOD her designs at first except the Americans, and they saved the salon," a friend said. "She always has a soft feeling for Americans."

In recent years she developed the Chanel accessories—quilted handbag with double chain handle, flesh-colored shoes with black or gold tones, gold chain belt and chain necklaces—all widely copied.

Chanel never has married. The story goes that the Duke of Gloucester proposed but the designer replied, "There can be many Duchesses of Gloucester. There can be only one Mademoiselle Chanel."

THE DESIGNER lives in the Hotel Ritz almost across the street from her salon. In an apartment studio in the salon, her cook and maid prepare her meals.

She still chooses fabrics for her collection. She drapes them on living models and begins to cut. She selects trimmings and buttons. Around the salon she is a veritable dictator, and sometimes banishes mannequins whose appearance she does not like.

MOST OF HER 1964 styles will be copied for the masses.

Chanel is not disturbed by the copies. One of her friends said, "she's amused— and flattered that women who can't afford her hand-made clothes still love to wear the Chanel style."

LBJ CITY VERSIONS

An addict of western style hats, President Johnson has had a momentous impact on the men's hat industry—and on milady's too. Shown in men's and women's styles is the LBJ "three-gallon" hat, city dwellers' version of the cowboy look. (UPI telephoto)

Marin Owes Much To Conservation League

Marin owes a lot to its Conservation League, in more ways than one.

And in this 30th anniversary year of the League's founding it is proper for us to consider this debt.

We have five state parks in Marin—Mt. Tamalpais, Samuel P. Taylor, Tomales Bay, Stinson Beach and Angel Island.

Each owes its existence in large part to the efforts of Conservation League leaders of yesteryear.

Same can be said for the Pt. Reyes National Seashore now taking shape, and for the Richardson Bay Wildlife Sanctuary and the Audubon Canyon ranch, above Bolinas Bay.

Even the county's new Paradise Park being developed on a portion of the old Naval Net Depot on Tiburon peninsula has received effective support at crucial stages from the Conservation League.

Marin has been a leader in billboard control, and planning-zoning affairs. One of the chief sources of citizen support for these planning efforts has always come from the Conservation League.

And this isn't all.

The history of the Conservation League has been mainly that of integrity, responsibility and reason.

Some over-zealous conservationists tend toward preservationism — throw-the-key-away, keep the public out.

Because the over-zealous ones often are the most active, they tend to gravitate toward offices and other positions of influence in conservation organizations.

So the leadership of a conservation organization tends to become more extreme than the rank and file of its more moderate membership.

This fortunately has NOT been the case with the Marin Conservation League. Over the years its leadership has been zealous but not unrealistically over-zealous.

With a few lamentable exceptions, the Conservation League has been always on the side of conservation-for-use-and-enjoyment-by-the-public.

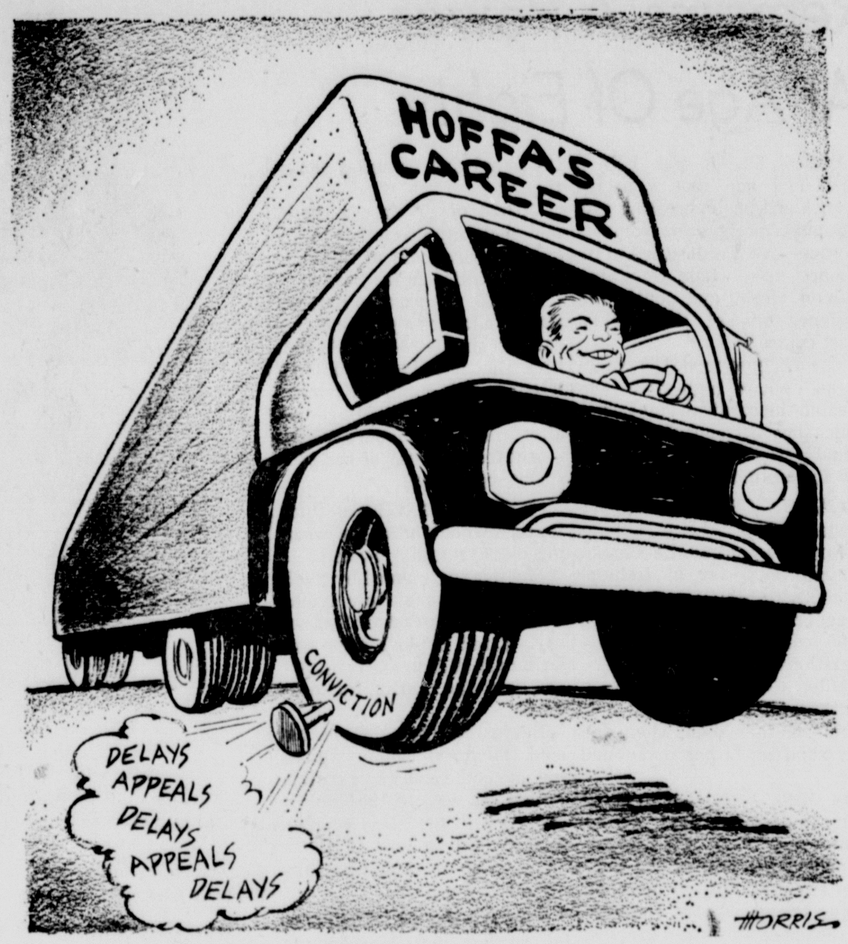
They have supported efforts to get development-for-use in state park areas, with a view to making it possible for more people to enjoy the preserved beauties.

This comprises the second big debt that Marin owes the Conservation League. Its leaders have been guided by reason. The League has represented its membership accurately; it has NOT fallen into the hands of extremists.

Therein has been its strength, to Marin's benefit.

May it continue ever thus.

A VERY SLOW LEAK



ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Viet War Can Be Won But It Will Be A Long Hard Pull, A Real Fight

SINGAPORE, Malaysia — The United States and South Vietnam can learn some important lessons from the wars against Communist guerrillas which have been won elsewhere in Southeast Asia.

I refer to the 12-year struggle with which Malaya and Britain liquidated Communist insurrection here in what is now called Malaysia and the six-year battle against the Huk insurrections in the Philippines.

Both campaigns ended in decisive success.

IT IS QUITE true that Malaya and the Philippines were faced with less difficult problems than South Vietnam is faced with today. One of the chief reasons is that neither Malaya nor the Philippines had to contend with a porous frontier next to a Communist enemy nation.

But there are practical lessons to be drawn from these two highly successful campaigns. I believe there are four such lessons applicable to Vietnam:

THE TIME LESSON—It is crucial that the American government and the American people should appreciate that there's no quick, easy, shoot-'em-down victory to be had over the Viet Cong Communist guerrillas. We need to measure realistically what we are up against in order to command as a government and as a people the will and stamina and patience to do the job.

Since it took the Malays and the British 12 years to liquidate the Communist insurrections and since it took the Filipino and U. S. forces six years to do the same — each without an exposed frontier—let's face up to the fact that the U. S. and South Vietnam are in for a long, hard struggle.

It can be done. It will take time. I am not saying it must be a 10-year war, but let us prepare ourselves for the long pull.

THE POLITICAL LESSON—A guerrilla war of insurrection can't be put down by military means alone. A worthy South Vietnamese government and a sustained war effort are essential.

Only the Vietnamese can provide a government worthy of their people. I hope that Nguyen Khanh has pondered the words of Brig. Gen. Edward Lansdale, an anti-guerrilla veteran.

He wrote:

"The Huks had analyzed the people's grievances and made the righting of these wrongs into their slogans. The change came when Ramon Magsaysay became defense minister. He and the army set about making the constitution a living document for the people. As they did so, they and the people emerged on the same side of the fight. The Huks lost support.

THE MILITARY LESSON—It took British troops—not just British advisers—to enable Malaya to liquidate the Communist guerrillas. It took American troops — not just American advisers — to enable the Filipinos to root out the Communist Huks. If the U. S. really believes we cannot afford to let the Communists unhinge this door to all Southeast Asia, then we had better prepare to fight as if we mean it.

THE FRONTIER LESSON — Perhaps the war against the Viet Cong cannot be won as long as the Communists can feed arms and forces through the frontiers, and as long as they have a safe sanctuary on which none of the penalties of their aggression are inflicted.

An anti-Communist, anti-guerrilla war under such conditions has never been won anywhere. Hasn't the time come to change the conditions, to bring the war to bear upon its source in Ho Chi Minh's North Vietnam?

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Candidates Should Not Be Hand-Picked

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have enclosed a partial clipping from the Independent-Journal of Mar. 3 (reporting Mosk's decision NOT to run for U. S. Senate). What interested me most was—by what right does any elected official, be he governor or even president, to "ask" or dictate who shall or shall not run for any elective governmental position.

It seems to me and numerous other people that Pat Brown, our governor, overexceeds his position and his duties as a governor. His general aim—Washington, D. C., by so-called "polishing of diplomatic boots?"

Don't Cheat Your Children

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The answer to your editorial of Mar. 10, "Must We Keep People Out To 'Save' Marin Beauty?", is an unqualified, No. However, when one sees the developments that are taking place in every part of Marin County, he observes not only destruction of scenic beauty, but no provision for open space, for schools, for playgrounds or for parking.

The building of numerous flats where single houses once occupied an area is nothing less than shameful and irresponsible and leads to a blighted community life. To allow this kind of development is to cheat our children and grandchildren of their birthright to play in safety and to give them an outlet for pent-up energy.

It is not enough to build "without destruction." We must build with constructive possibilities, for the conservation of beauty, for recreation, for public facilities and, yes, for a spot of green open space. This is a job for planners with foresight and with dedication to community well-being. Nothing less will do.

Editor, Independent-Journal:

When a doctor does a good job, the words "thank you" are a benediction.

To the wonderful dedicated men of the Marin County Sheriff's department, namely, Capt. Stinson, Deputy Johanson, Juvenile Hall Supervisor David Fogel, Deputy Koehn, Mike McLean with the huge bloodhound, and the many others who helped search from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. Saturday evening (Mar. 7) for two 6-year-old boys. We fortunate people of Marin County are humbly grateful for the perserverance and efforts of these fine men.

Thank you and God bless you!

One Doctor Takes Issue With Another

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to take issue with the views of a colleague of mine in his letter of Mar. 6. Dr. Robertson Ward expresses all the dogma of the Birch Society in warning anew of the dangers of that tired bogyman, communism in America.

A week or so ago there was a fairly good documentary on TV called "The Rise and Fall of American Communism." It pointed out that the Communist Party reached a peak in membership in 1939 when a few hundred thousands, made desperate by the depression, clutched at the prospect of something different. After seeing the party abruptly change its viewpoint back and forth in accordance with Russian policy early in World War II, the majority of the membership faded away. From all I have read, it has continued to fade, and today embraces only a few thousand harried die-hards, who have about as much influence on American politics as my mongrel dog.

The implication that Dr. Ward makes, that President Johnson might be influenced by anything printed in "The Worker" in appointing Chief Justice Warren head of the Oswald Committee, is hence absurd. Why should Johnson be influenced by a tiny minority that can elect no public officials and is not even a legal party? Unless, of course, he along with Eisenhower, Warren, Stevenson and Rockefeller, are all commies too (in disguise). This is really the paranoid suspicion of all the righteous Birchertypes.

Everybody that is left of Goldwater (and he is fairly liberal) and everybody that supports such pinko ideas as Negro rights, income tax, the United Nations, control on sales of weapons, etc., is, if not a card-carrier, a "fellow traveler." The latter implies that an individual cannot independently decide for himself, for instance, that the United Nations is worth supporting in order to avoid a holocaust — he must have been influenced by these elusive Communists that no one personally knows but are under every bush.

Dr. Ward states that "any citizen who places the United Nations before the United States does not qualify as a patriot." . . . Ultimately, if there is ever to be peace on earth, there will have to be a higher authority than nations, and people must learn (because it is not natural and easy) to moderate their natural patriotism in favor of an attitude of kinship toward all nations. . . .

Dr. Ward also says we should work for candidates who will "place freedom of the individual first and foremost." I wonder whose freedom he is really worried about, that of a well-to-do doctor in Marin County, California, or that of a poor Negro in Alabama who can't eat in a decent restaurant much less vote.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

BIG DONOR FINDS IT A CHORE

Giving away a million dollars proved to be no small task for a midwestern farmer who had done well in the stock market.

"It's been quite a problem, giving this money away," he said.

The 80-year-old man contributed $825,000 to a local hospital and a home for older citizens. But he became very ill and there was doubt about wether he would be able to dispose of his remaining wealth.

The next day, however, he announced from his sickbed 4 additional projects, mostly for school construction, that would put his donations in the million-dollar bracket. Then he smiled and said: "At least I feel very much relieved."

It is the privilege of extremely few to give away a thousand dollars in one lump sum, let alone a million.

But there are some things the Lord expects each of us to give others—our time, our compassion, our active Christlike concern to ensure that hey have the opportunity to share the benefits we enjoy.

"But seeing the crowds, He was moved with compassion for them."

(Matthew 9:36)

Even if I can't excel in material gifts to others, O Lord, let me share with them part of myself.

GOP Says Brown Short-Changes Schools In Delaying Bond Vote

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has pretty well committed himself to seeing that the initiative which would nullify the Rumford Housing Act goes on the November general election ballot, instead of the June primary.

The governor admitted in a press conference that he believed the initiative would pass if it were voted on in June. He is unalterably opposed to the initiative, and has used every means he can, short of calling out the National Guard, to prevent the people from voting on the proposal.

THEREBY HANGS a story which has caused Republican leaders to charge Governor Brown with "short-changing" the schools of California.

Under California election law, if a general bond issue is placed on the ballot at a primary election, the election then becomes "general," and any issues qualified for a general election ballot must be placed on the primary ballot.

The schools of California sorely need replenishing of the bond aid fund for constructing new classrooms throughout the state. The fund will be depleted by the end of June. Unless new bonds are voted, a severe cut in school construction will take place, unless some means to borrow from other state funds are found.

YET BROWN is contemplating decreasing the school aid program, which affects millions of children, for the special benefit of a comparatively few members of a minority group.

"Once again," said Assemblyman Charles Conrad (R-Hollywood), minority leader in the Assembly, "Governor Brown is short-changing the public schools and this time for strictly political reasons. He does not want the anti-Rumford housing initiative to be voted on in June so the school children must suffer."

Said Brown: "Well, if I have to put them (school bonds) on in November in order to have the discriminatory bill on the November ballot, that will be the order."

CONRAD POINTED out school building will be cut from 30 million dollars to 11 million dollars a month unless bonds are voted in June.

"To cause such chaos in school construction over the anti-Rumford housing initiative is politics at its worst."

While Governor Brown wants to delay a vote on the proposal, many assemblymen and senators who are campaigning for office are reluctant to have the balloting take place in November. Reason: They believe it will become a partisan issue.

Study To Plan Congress Reform Is In Trouble

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — A $230,000 study of Congressional organization, perhaps the most significant approach in recent years to a problem which has caused increasing concern, is in serious trouble even before its work has begun.

Planned as a project under the American Political Science Assn. and financed by the Carnegie Corp., the study was likened to a 1941-1945 APSA study which provided the background for the 1946 Legislative Reorganization Act.

But Congress, because of the "academic politics" which have developed around the current study, may become indifferent or hostile to it. If so, the study could become just another research document, rather than the framework of congressional reform.

THE MAIN REASON the new, amply financed study is endangered is that the American Political Science Assn. apparently received the Carnegie grant and proceeded to organize the study without consulting the key members of Congress who helped initiate the project.

All of those involved continue to believe that a comprehensive study of the many problems surrounding congressional reform is necessary before Congress will take substantial measures for self-correction.

The Carnegie - sponsored project may, they believe, be the only opportunity for such a substantive approach in the near future. Many believe that the American legislative process hangs in the balance.

TWO HOUSE members known to be upset with the recent developments are Reps. Chet Holifield (D-Calif.) and Thomas B. Curtis (R-Mo.), who as far back as early 1961 began the activity which led to the study grant. After preliminary bipartisan discussions, they prepared and distributed among interested colleagues a "Holifield-Curtis Outline" of problem areas in the field of congressional reform.

Study of this outline led to a series of dinner meetings called by Holifield and Curtis, at which a total of about 20 other members and several political scientists engaged in further discussion. At the request of the two congressmen, the American Political Science Assn. sponsored the dinners, which were financed by the Stern Family Fund.

During 1963, drafts of proposals for a comprehensive study of Congress or, in some cases, simply of the House, were prepared and studied. Up until a few weeks of final submission of a proposal by APSA to the Carnegie Corp., there was cordial collaboration in their preparation between APSA and several congressmen, notably Holifield and Curtis.

HOWEVER, the final version of the study proposal, which was quite different in important respects from the last "revised draft" seen by Curtis and Holifield, was not submitted to them for comment.

It contained two key elements which neither Holifield nor Curtis would have preferred if they had been asked. One was that the final proposal was for a study of the whole Congress rather than the House.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Alas, Women And TV Tarnish Valorous Cigar-Smoking Image

He is one of the misunderstood heroes of our times, oft condemned, seldom appreciated, unreasonably denounced.

Just when the campaign of vilification against the cigar smoker began it is hard now to determine, but its effectiveness has been coincidental with the increase of cigarette smoking by women.

The cigar has been a symbol of masculinity in America.

THE INDIANS taught the Spanish explorers the pleasures of a good cigar, and cigar making became one of the earliest industries in this hemisphere. Stogies — the brand smoked by the drivers of Pennsylvania's Conestoga wagons—also helped settle the great American West.

Cigars have been the favorite smoke of warriors such as Gen. U. S. Grant and Gen. George S. Patton; business titans such as J. P. Morgan; statesmen such as Winston Churchill. The late John F. Kennedy also enjoyed the bouquet of a good cigar.

WHO THEN, are the foes of the cigar and who subjects its smokers to such opprobrium and disdain?

They are women, television and the movies.

Too often in television and film programs the cigar smoker is portrayed as a lowlife lout, a boor, an underworld tycoon, or a fat political grafter. The idea seems to be that if you want a character to look like a villain you make him overweight, balding and stick a half-chewed cigar in his mouth.

The enmity of many women toward cigars probably is based on several factors.

The real feminine objections against cigar smoking are twofold:

1. The average woman dislikes cigars because she does not know how to handle them gracefully.

2. The average woman is jealous of cigars because they give a man more satisfaction and less trouble than women do.

After all, a man doesn't have to listen to a cigar, remember it on its birthday, be nice to its relatives, or buy it a fur coat. All he does is light it, smoke it, enjoy it—and throw it away.

How can you beat a deal like that?

Dignity Added to Novato Meetings; Hall Lock Changed But No One Told

THE LATEST MEETING of the Novato City Council opened for the first time with the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Simple and short though it is, that pledge lends an air of dignity and authority to meetings of governing bodies which they otherwise do not have. Somehow that simple act sets a mood of showing that there is something larger than the petty problems of the meeting. Too often there is personal haggling in meetings of municipal governments. The simple act of pledging allegiance to the flag often raises the tenor of such meetings above the common haggling.

We hope that the Novato City Council continues it and that all municipal governing bodies who do not make the pledge a habit, would adopt it.

Framed copies of the originals of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States were on display in the council chambers for the first time.

Miles W. Ross of 145 Shevlin Road had donated them to the city. These also gave an air of patriotism to the meeting.

LAST THURSDAY I needed a small piece of information from the Novato Community House. Mrs. Kathleen Simpkins, deputy city clerk, gave me the key for the building, but I could not make it open the door. In fact, the key would not even go into the lock.

So I returned it to the city hall with my story that it would not work. Mrs. Simpkins knew it would work, although it worked hard. So she went next door to the community house to show me.

"Why it's a new lock," she said when she tried the key.

Back at the city hall, neither City Administrator J. Julien Baget nor any of the girls in the finance and administrator's office knew that the lock had been changed.

Edmund Mahany, parks and recreation director who manages the community hall, had the lock changed because one loaner key had been lost. He had failed to inform the city administrator or give the girls in the other offices the key.

It was lucky that it had been discovered because there were three meetings in the building that night.

IN THE "grass is greener on the other side of the fence" category, one can easily add this:

Novato's first police chief, Roy McLaren, left on Nov. 1 last year to assume the position of research analyst for the field service division of the International Assn. of Chiefs of Police in Washington, D. C.

That he missed Novato was attested to in the letter which he wrote to Chief Robert Di Grazia and the police force. Excerpts from the letter are:

"November, 1963, leaving Novato, a good little police department. . . .

"Lafayette, La., December, 1963, Novato must be among the top 25 police departments in the country. . . .

"Mt. Vernon, N. Y., December, 1963, Novato must be among the top 10 police departments in the Western Hemisphere. . . .

IT MIGHT be the dry weather in the past month, but have you ever seen more beautiful camellias than this spring? The rain, although necessary to growth, often bruises the blossoms. This year, they seem to be perfect.

And to top it all, many Novato people are so generous with the blossoms from their bushes.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Trustees of Tamalpais Union High School District voted to ask at the May 21 trustees election for an increase in the operating tax rate limit from $1.25 to $1.57 per $100 assessed valuation and a $1,300,000 bond issue including site work for a third high school.

After asking spectators to vote by show of hands (27 "no" votes and 24 "yes") the San Rafael Planning Commission rejected an application by Paul DiPietro for a two-year use permit for an auto race track east of Hamie's Restaurant.

20 YEARS AGO

The Central Labor Council named Herman Hale as labor delegate to the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, succeeding Charles Austin, who had entered the Marine Corps.

An editorial in the Independent entitled "The Urge To Splurge" deplored high living by persons "who never were able to splurge before," adding, "There are stories of workmen's wives buying costly oil paintings and hundred-dollar dresses."

Drama Teeners In 2nd Place

St. Anselm's Teen Club of San Anselmo came in second Sunday in archdiocesan finals of the Catholic Youth Organization's teen drama competition in San Francisco.

Immaculate Heart Teen Club of Belmont took first place.

Six youngsters took part in St. Anselm's presentation of "Happy Journey to Trenton and Camden" by Thornton Wilder, the same play which earlier won first place in the Marin County teen drama festival.

In the cast were Margretta Schine, Tim Truett, John LaBoyteaux, Janice Murray, William Adams and Theresa Komo. Mrs. Rita Knox was director.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1912, Mrs. Luther Gulick of Maine, announced the formation of a new organization of young girls to be called "The Camp Fire Girls."

In 1942, Gen. Douglas MacArthur arrived in Australia to become the supreme commander in the Southwest Pacific Theater of Operations.

In 1953, the last price controls set up in the U. S. during World War II were discarded.

Today is the feast of St. Patrick.

A thought for the day: Novelist William Somerset Maugham once said: "People ask you for criticism, but they only want praise."

Teach Declarer Lesson When He Has Wrong Idea In Game

When declarer has the wrong idea of where cards are, it is up to the defenders to set him straight.

The best time for this is after the hand, when declarer has already gone down, because that way he'll remember the lesson.

West led the jack of spades hoping to force out the queen and regain the lead quickly.

FIRST TRICK

If declarer had put up dummy's queen at the first trick, he would have noted the location of the ace-king of spades, and this would have located the ace of clubs and the two red kings for East's opening bid of one heart.

Armed with this information, South would win a finesse with the queen of hearts.

Then he would switch to clubs, winning three clubs, two heart, one spade, and one diamond to make his contract in a hurry.

WRONG NOTION

Instead, South conceived the wrong-headed notion that West was leading from a long spade suit headed by A-J-10 or by K-J-10.

In either case, South could play low spades from dummy and wait for East to win the trick and block the suit with a singleton or doubleton high spade.

When West won the first trick with the jack of spades he had no trouble reading South's mind. To make sure South remembered how wrong he could be, West led the ten of spades at the second trick.

LOOKS UNEASY

South looked uneasily at West, but West stared him down. This is an important part of a certain kind of swindle. If West had cringed, South would have known what was going on.

But South couldn't believe that West would have the gall to lead the ten of spades and still look him in the eye. So South played a low spade again, and the roof fell in.

West slowly cashed the rest of the spades, relishing each trick as he did so. Then West switched to a low diamond to set up two diamond tricks. The defenders thus got six spades, two diamonds, and the ace of clubs, collecting 800 points.

It was an expensive lesson, but South remembered it.

3 Cases Of Window Breaking

It was a bad weekend for windows, according to San Rafael Police Department reports.

A front window at Van Der-Malen Cleaners, 2138 Fourth Street, valued at $200, was broken by a small rock Friday night.

A part of the display window of United Ambulance Co., 914 Irwin Street, was hit by two B-B pellets. Norman E. Forther of Novato, a company employee who reported the damage Sunday, said the shots probably were fired Friday night.

Marjorie Ellen Joost of 34 Kinross Drive reported the windshield of her car was shattered by a stone as she drove along Grand Avenue, south of Newhall Drive.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Women Patients Might Have Sore Arm After Cancer Surgery

VAN DELLEN

Surgeons recommend operation for cancer if they believe cure is possible. An exception is surgery to relieve obstruction or unbearable pain, even though the malignancy is incurable.

Special instructions may be needed after cancer surgery. When a breast is removed, for example, the surgeon also takes out the fatty and glandular tissures in the armpit. A padded bra will correct the cosmetic defect but other after-effects are not so easily managed.

THE CHEST wall and armpit are tight and numb for some time after surgery. The skin in this area may feel thick for three or four months. Hair usually grows back but perspiration ceases. It may be difficult to raise the arm above the head but function returns within one or two months. None of these manifestations need prevent the woman from playing golf, bowling, or driving a car.

The arm on the involved side enlarges because drainage is disturbed by extirpation of the lymph glands in the armpit. Swelling is slight in some but severe in others. Puffiness is aggravated by allowing the arm to hang down, and is reduced by elevating the limb.

THE HIGHER the arm is raised, the easier it is for the accumulated fluid to escape. Wiggling the fingers and bending the wrist several times a day will help establish normal drainage.

The swollen extremity loses some of its ability to resist infection so that special care must be given to cuts, abrasions, hangnails, pimples, and other lesions. For the same reason, vaccinations or hypodermic injections on the involved side are inadvisable. It is wise to remain slender, as thin women are less likely to be bothered in this way. Don't wear tight sleeves, bracelets, or rings.

The American Cancer society 521 W. 57 Street, New York City, 19, publishes a booklet, Help Yourself to Recover. It contains valuable suggestions for these patients.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

ANTIBIOTIC REACTION

A.M. writes: My 13-year-old son was given antibiotics for mononucleosis six months ago. The medicine affected his bowel function, causing diarrhea. Stool tests show Monilia. How long will it take for restoration of proper bowel function?

REPLY

It should have been restored by now. If not, additional tests and X-rays will be needed to rule out the other causes of diarrhea.

PRESSURE AND HEART ATTACKS

M.L. writes: Would a tense, nervous man with low blood pressure be as likely to have a heart attack as one with high blood pressure?

REPLY

The odds are with the hypertensive because an elevated pressure is likely to hasten hardening of the coronary arteries. I assume both men have similar hereditary and environmental backgrounds.

LUNG INFECTION

C. T. S. writes: What is the cause of pneumonitis? Does it last a long time?

REPLY

This lung condition usually is less serious than pneumonia and more severe than bronchitis. There are pathological differences that are meaningless to most readers, but in general enough infection is present to show under X-ray.

HOT OR COLD?

H. C. writes: Which is better for the eyes, the application of ice packs or a hot towel?

REPLY

Heat for infections and cold for injuries.

2 New History Landmarks Are Named In California

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two sites in California are among the first seven found eligible for a new National Registry of Natural History Landmarks, to illustrate important segments of America's natural heritage.

The California sites are Elder Creek, 4 miles north of Branscomb in Mendocino County, and Rancho La Brea-Hancock Park in Los Angeles County.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall said today the Registry will strengthen public awareness in preserving the nation's cultural resources.

The 3,000-acre Elder Creek tract includes part of the South Fork of the Eel River. It contains imposing stands of Douglas fir of large size and great age. There also are growths of coast redwood. Chaparral is found on many of the ridge crests bounding the creek valley.

The Rancho La Brea-Hancock Park, owned by Los Angeles County, contains several pits of natural asphalt in which pleistocene animals became trapped as they sought fresh water. The pits are world-famous as the source of the largest and most diverse collection of pleistocene fossils. Among the preserved fossils are those of the ground sloth, saber-toothed tiger and the mammoth.

The new date follows a deadlocked jury in the same case last Thursday. Golledge allegedly stabbed Paul F. Weeks, 31, with a 12-inch metal rod. Weeks recovered.

"Oh, oh! Cold coming on!"

2 From Redwood To Study Abroad This Summer

Toni Harris and Christine Schultz, Redwood High School seniors, have been selected as two of the three west coast participants in an Experiment in International Living summer honor program.

The girls are two of Redwood's four ambassadors for the regular summer exchange program. Miss Harris will go to France and Miss Schultz to Germany.

Only two small groups of American students, one in Germany and one in France, will take part in the supplementary program.

Besides participating in the normal schedule of living and traveling, members of the two experimental groups will have three hours per day of schooling in language, customs, history and culture.

St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, in his work is more closely identified with the north of Ireland than with the south.

THAT'S NO KISS — But these San Rafael High School students look as though they are having a good time during dress rehearsal of the school's production of "Kiss Me Kate" to be presented at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the school's auditorium. Sue Henderson is over Ralph Murphy's knee while enjoying the fun are Craig Stevens, Pete Rockwell, Doug MacPherson, Bill Humphries, Jeff Padgett, Wayne Whearty, Chris Rast and Steve Jensen. RECIPES OF THE WEEK
Spiced Corned Beef*

Preheat oven 325° allowing 1 hour per pound of meat. Cover a 4 to 6 pound corned beef with water, using large roasting pan. Add 1 orange unpeeled and sliced, 1 large onion, quartered, 2 stalks celery, cut in half, 2 cloves garlic, quartered, 1 tsp. dill seed, ½ tsp. rosemary, 6 whole cloves, 3 inches stick cinnamon, and 1 bay leaf. Cover and place in oven; cook 'til tender. Remove meat from liquid while hot, brush with light corn syrup to glaze, place under broiler for a minute or two. Serve at once or chill. Serves 6 to 8. You can even cook this the day ahead—nice for entertaining. Delicious plain or sandwiched!

ANGELIC CAKE

Cut the top off of an angel food cake and remove center, leaving 2-inch shell. Fill with this mixture: Cook in top of a double boiler 2 cups milk, ¾ cup sugar, 4 beaten egg yolks, until thick. Dissolve 1 tbsp. gelatine in ¼ cup cold water and add to hot custard. Stir occasionally 'til thick but not stiff. Whip ½ pint cream, flavor with rum, and add to gelatine. Fill cavity in cake. Replace top of cake and refrigerate overnight. Just before serving, sift confectioners sugar over top.
